CLOUDBURST FOLLOWS HATFIELD'S RAIN WOOLING

'No Whitewash!' Is Cry

SMITH WILDMAN BROOKHART, "foreman" of the United States Senate "jury," that will publicly try Harry M. Daugherty, and inserts of Daugherty, left, and former Senator George E. Chamberlain, chief counsel for the accused attorney-general. Daugherty held a conference with President Coolidge today. It is claimed "routine business" was discussed.

STOCK GAMBLERS' NAMES CONCEALED

Identity of Plungers Is Not Relevant to Inquiry, Brookhart Claims

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The Wheeler-Brookhart committee that is investigating Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty today forbade Mrs. Roxie Stinson to divulge the names of the five men—friends of Daugherty and the late Jesse Smith—who, Mrs. Stinson said, cleaned up $33,000,000 in Sinclair oil stock in August, 1922.

The committee's refusal to allow Mrs. Stinson to tell the names surprised the vast crowd that packed the committee room to hear Mrs. Stinson undergo cross-examination at the hands of Daugherty's lawyers.

Names Not Relevant
Senator Brookhart said the committee had discussed the matter secretly and that, inasmuch as neither Daugherty nor Smith were involved in the deal, they thought the names of the plungers were not relevant to the present investigation.

Counsel for Daugherty declared they had expected to hear Mrs. Stinson name the late President Harding as one of the men.

Bring People Here And Glendale Will Do Rest

The Glendale Evening News is informed by the Automobile Club of Southern California that there are many indications all motor travel records will be broken during the coming season. The club states that the average increase in the number of "foreign" automobiles entering California for the past four years has been 50 per cent annually. Elsewhere in The Glendale Evening News today is a report from the Union Pacific Railroad company to the effect that the 1924 influx by rail of people to this state will top last year's total by at least 20 per cent.

Many of those who will come to Southern California this year have heard of Glendale and will visit the "wonder city." Our varied charms and attractions will WIN them. They will make their homes here.

But others in the east and middle west have yet to learn of Glendale. We must continue our efforts to spread the "gospel of Glendale." We must BRING people here. This great city of homes, fine churches, schools, business houses and ideal residential sites will hold people when they come here. Let us increase our efforts to impress upon our friends in the middle west and east the DESIRE to come to Glendale.

MIRACLE MAN VICTIM OF MOISTURE

Spends Night In Tree to Escape Flood; Wins Fund of $8,000

COALINGA, Cal., March 27.—Rainmaker Charles M. Hatfield contracted to produce two inches of rain for this district in return for $8,000, but he did not figure on being a victim of the rain he produced.

The rainmaker, however, spent last night in the limbs of a tree in the mountains near here where he had set up his rain-wooling towers following a cloudburst in that immediate vicinity which washed out his tents and made the roads impassable.

Heavy Rainfall
Although check has not been made of the five rain gauges agreed upon, Jacob Zwang, chairman of the committee that raised the $8,000, declared today that he was sure the major portion of the sum was now due Hatfield and probably the entire amount. It rained here throughout the night—a veritable downpour, and telephonic advices stated that precipitation was general in the area agreed upon.

A final check-up will not be made until Hatfield is able to get down from his mountain rain-making platform. He will accompany members of the committee on a roundup of the five stations at Hanford, Lemoore, Stratford, Corcoran and Murray.

People Rejoice
"We've quit measuring," said Zwang today. "There's no need for it now. The people here are too happy over the rain to quibble over its measurement."

Although the rain ceased this morning, dark clouds were still hovering over the valley and indications were that additional moisture would fall.

Reports received here did not state whether Hatfield's rainmaking apparatus had been washed out by the cloudburst. It was said it might be days before the roads would be passable in that vicinity and unless Hatfield succeeds in recovering his tents he will be forced to continue his habitation in the trees.

BANK PRESIDENT TELLS OF LOANS

Empire Trust Company Head Informs Committee of Election Debts

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The Senate investigating committee delved into the financial history of the Republican party today in its request for more information concerning alleged "deals" pertaining to election debts. Leroy W. Baldwin, president of the Empire Trust company of New York, was the first witness, and he readily gave the committee a record of the party's financing through his bank.

"We made the loans on the recommendation of General Dupont and every member of the committee was obligated," said the witness.

Denies Transactions
Baldwin denied any $250,000 "transaction" with the committee and disclaimed any knowledge of a payment of $75,000 to the committee by Harry F. Sinclair, holder of the Teapot Dome lease.

"Was any Sinclair stock handled by your bank in connection with these loans?"

"No, none at all," Baldwin then was excused.

SUBMITS TAX RECORD

WASHINGTON, March 27.—On behalf of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the secret tax records of the Gulf Oil corporation and its thirteen subsidiaries were laid before a senate investigating committee this afternoon to refute charges that the company had been granted favors by the bureau of internal revenue.

PRIEST NEAR DEATH

LOS ANGELES, March 27.—Father Joseph McQuade was hovering between life and death at the Sisters' hospital today, his condition being such that surgeons feared to operate on him for an acute attack of appendicitis.

Voters Will Fill Two Vacancies on High School Board

Glendale voters will cast their ballots tomorrow, Friday, March 28, at the Harvard High school, for the two trustees to be elected to the Glendale Union High school board. The polls will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock at night, in charge of F. Riley Lyons, inspector, and Mrs. Adelaide H. Imier and Mrs. Cora R. Engle, judges. Other polling places in the high school district are three in number, located at the grammar school buildings in La Crescenta, Tujunga and Sunland. The candidates are George H. Bentley, Dr. Harry V. Brown and Alexander Mitchell, all prominent Glendale residents.

Every resident of Glendale regularly registered since January 1, 1922, is qualified to vote in the local precinct at tomorrow's high school election, according to Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools, whether or not they have moved since that date, provided they still reside within the city limits.

TIA JUANA TRACK HIT BY DOWNPOUR

Race Course Sea of Mud; Coffroth Handicap on Sunday Is Upset

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 27.—The Tia Juana race course was a sea of mud today, following a veritable downpour of rain last night. The change from a fast to a muddy track has worked havoc with the minds of the racing public which has been engrossed with the chances of various thoroughbreds to win the $40,000 added Coffroth handicap to be run Sunday, March 30. Leading bookmakers were today refusing to lay odds on the race until a better line is had on the track condition for Sunday.

The Coffroth handicap is the premier event of the Tia Juana racing season, and annually draws upwards of 30,000 spectators, two-thirds of whom are from Los Angeles and vicinity.

BESTOW RED HAT ON U. S. PRELATES

Cardinals Hayes, Mundelein, Central Figures In Solemn Service

ROME, March 27.—Solemnity and splendor marked the public consistory in St. Peter's cathedral today when Pope Pius XI bestowed the red hat, the crowning insignia of their new dignity, upon Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago and Cardinal Hayes of New York. This was the first time since the Ecumenical council in 1870 that the historic cathedral was the scene of ceremonies attending the bestowal of the red hat of the cardinalate.

CROWDS WATCH MURDER

CHICAGO, March 27.—An unidentified man today shot and killed Mrs. Jennie Rosen in the midst of a crowd of morning shoppers, held scores at bay by threats of death as he knelt for a moment over the body of his victim, and escaped into the throng of onlookers. Police say they are seeking Samuel Rosen, her estranged husband, in connection with the killing.

HUNT FOR WOMEN

LOS ANGELES, March 27.—The discovery of fourteen photographs of women taken in California in the possession of W. W. Davis, under arrest in Omaha on a bigamy charge, set the Los Angeles police on a search today for women here he may have married.

RUIN MARKS TRAIL OF STORM

Fishermen's Homes Wiped Out; American Tourists In Stricken Region

ROME, March 27.—More than 100 persons were killed, hundreds were injured and more than 1500 made homeless by a terrific hurricane which swept the Amalfi district, said a dispatch from that place this afternoon.

King Victor Emmanuel will leave for the storm scene tonight.

Pope Pius XI contributed $1200 for the relief of the storm sufferers.

Many foreign tourists were in the list, but, so far as known, no Americans were injured.

Six hundred fishermen's houses were destroyed. The village of Vietri was virtually wiped out.

JENNINGS TALKS ABOUT DEAD MEN

Ex-Bandit Describes Deals At Convention; Tells Of Hamon, Penrose

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Al Jennings, reformed bandit train robber, about whose picturesque career have been spun many tales of fiction, related to the senate oil committee a colorful and amazing story today of the alleged "deals" that were consummated between prominent Republicans at the Chicago convention in 1920.

Smiling and affable, Jennings told the committee of his intimacy with the late Jake Hamon, Oklahoma oil man and political boss, and swore that Hamon told him it cost him (Hamon) $1,000,000 "to nominate Harding" and get the promise of the secretaryship of the interior for himself.

Dead Men In Story
Dead men again figured largely in the story—Jennings quoting Hamon as saying that he had "already paid Boies Penrose $250,000."

These conversations with Hamon, the ex-bandit said, occurred in Hamon's room in a Chicago hotel the night before Harding was nominated.

SHOWERS ARE TO FOLLOW SUNSHINE

Observer Predicts Showers Will Add to Southland Precipitation

Exactly 1 inch of rain has fallen in Glendale and vicinity during the present storm, bringing the seasonal record up to 6.48 inches, it was reported by H. E. Bartlett of 333 West Broadway.

Added information given by Mr. Bartlett that will be of interest to Glendaleans is that, for this present month of March 4 inches of rain has fallen in Glendale. Mr. Bartlett adds that since 1909, when he began keeping rain records, there have been only four Marches that have surpassed this record. In March, 1911, there were 7.07 inches of rain received; in 1912, 7.96 inches; in 1918, 8.62 inches, and in 1920, 6.40 inches.

Total Rainfall for Season 5.26 Inches

LOS ANGELES, March 27.—Although clear, sunny skies started the day in Los Angeles, following the heaviest rainstorm of the season, the United States weather observer predicted today that more showers would fall in Southern California.

The precipitation for the last twenty-four hours totaled 1.03. This brought the season's total to 5.26. Last year at this time the season's total was 7.56. Nor-

Ship on Round-World Tour Will Continue

TAMPA, Fla., March 27.—The President Monroe, shipping board steamship, which went aground on the Pacific reefs, near here, Sunday night, will be refloated and preparations are being completed to continue the round-the-world voyage which it is making. The craft was little damaged, according to officials.

Home Wrecked, Ice Box Strikes Woman In Gas Explosion

LOS ANGELES, March 27.—Because somebody in the household of W. A. Desert disregarded his warning not to strike a match, the Desert home of seven rooms at Rosemead, near here, was destroyed by a terrific gas explosion early today, and two members of the family were injured.

A flying icebox struck Mrs. Desert and pinned her in the ruins. Neighbors rescued her. Her leg was fractured. Genevieve, a daughter, was slightly hurt.

The family was awakened at 5 o'clock by the odor of gas.

"I'll get my flashlight from the garage and hunt for the leak," said Desert. "Don't strike a match."

While he was coming back from the garage he was hurled to the ground by the force of an explosion, and saw the house collapse before him.

DELAY START OF WORLD CRUISERS

Rain Impedes Transfer From Land Gear to Pontoons For Ocean Flight

SEATTLE, March 27.—The world flight of the four big Douglas cruisers will be delayed here until the middle of next week, it became apparent today when work was resumed on lifting the flagship of Major Frederick L. Martin from its land gear to the pontoons. Rain has impeded activities at Sand Point field and the proposed "hop off" next Sunday has been abandoned.

With four to five hours required to make the change to aquatic paraphernalia on each plane, this task could not be completed before Sunday under the most favorable conditions, it was said. Time must be allowed, the flyers said, to tune up the craft before starting the perilous journey across the Pacific.

Daugherty's Brother Now Facing Contempt

WASHINGTON, March 27.—A move to have Mel Daugherty, brother of the attorney-general and president of the Midland National bank at Washington Court-house, Ohio, certified for contempt of the senate, was begun here today by Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana.

Daugherty refused to permit removal of his bank books to Washington, as required in a subpoena issued by the Wheeler-Brookhart committee.

Obregon Arrests Foe At Point of Pistol

MEXICO CITY, March 27.—President Alvaro Obregon, at the point of a gun, today made prisoner General Jose Anaya, one of the leaders of the recent revolt.

The episode occurred on a crowded spot in the Calle Bolivar. The president drew his revolver when Anaya started to run after Obregon had called on him to halt. Obregon turned his prisoner over to police immediately and continued on his way by automobile.

SETS FLYING RECORD

DAYTON, Ohio, March 27.—Lieutenant Harold G. Harris is believed to have set a new world's record here this afternoon. Carrying a dead weight of 549 pounds, he flew to an altitude of 28,411 feet. He used an airplane equipped with a side type supercharger built at McCook field.

CLAIMS PROBE BLOCKED

WASHINGTON, March 27.—H. L. Scaife, a former agent of the department of justice, told the Wheeler-Brookhart committee investigating Attorney-General Daugherty today, that he quit the department because his investigations into aircraft frauds were blocked "by powerful interests caught in the meshes of the law."

FIGHT OVER TESTIMONY OF ROXIE STINSON

Charges, Counter Charges Fly at Inquiry Over Attorney General

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The name of the late President Harding was dragged sensationally into the mire of the Harry M. Daugherty investigation today in a tempestuous session of the Wheeler-Brookhart committee which saw the friends and enemies of the attorney general snarling at each other and hurling charges and counter charges as thick as hail stones.

The spectacle clearly outdid anything that has gone before in the riotous investigation. The fireworks started when counsel for Daugherty, Paul Howland and ex-Senator George E. Chamberlain of Oregon, attempted to cross-examine Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of the late Jesse Smith, whose startling stories have proved the feature of the investigation to date.

Answer Is Barred
Mrs. Stinson was asked to name the five friends of Daugherty and Smith who she said yesterday, cleaned up $33,000,000 in dealing in Sinclair oil stocks in August of 1922. She had said that Smith told her he and Daugherty were "sore because they were not in on it."

Senator Brookhart, Republican, of Iowa, as chairman of the committee, would not let Mrs. Stinson answer the question. He said the committee had decided that inasmuch as Daugherty and Smith were not accused of being in the deal, the names of five men were not relevant to the inquiry.

Defense Protests
Counsel for Daugherty immediately protested, saying that Mrs. Stinson had clearly intimated there was something "wrong" in this episode, and they demanded the right to clear it up.

"We don't know who these people are," asserted Chamberlain. "My impression is that Mrs. Stinson is going to mention

GIRL ADOPTED IN INFANCY SOUGHT

Aunt Believes Niece, Now Married, Is Living In Glendale

By a strange coincidence of Fate, a girl of 20, shunted about by the hand of Death from one home to another since infancy, may be reunited in Glendale to the aunt she knew and loved during her childhood.

Nineteen years ago her parents died and she was adopted by Dr. Mabel Church, Vancouver, Wash. She was christened Ruth Church. During her eight years with her foster parents, Mrs. P. Rosenfeld, Dr. Church's sister, visited the girl often. The last time was just prior to the death of Dr. Church.

Ruth Is Married
Then Ruth was cared for by another until she grew to young womanhood. Later a family known to Mrs. Rosenfeld as Glockburn helped her through school. And a short time ago Ruth married and became matron of her own home.

Last night Mrs. Rosenfeld, now a resident of Glendale, heard through a friend of the Glockburn family that Ruth also lives in Glendale. She doesn't know her name nor her address, but she does know that Ruth has "dark hair, dark eyes and a beautiful disposition."

When children come in from play with feet wet, noses blue and hands like lumps of ice, you feel sure that they are "in for a cold." But the next time try Vicks. At bedtime rub this vaporizing salve well over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. The body heat releases the ingredients—Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc.—in the form of vapors, and these vapors go directly to the air passages, stimulating the mucous membrane to repel germ attacks. At the same time Vicks increases the circulation of the blood through the chest region, thus helping to prevent any congestion developing. If applied in time, Vicks will prevent many colds from getting a start and its use doesn't disturb the child's digestion as constant internal dosing is so apt to do.

Dominating Figure
Such is the man who is presiding over the jury which will decide whether Harry M. Daugherty of Columbus, Ohio, lawyer and politician, is guilty of malfeasance in the office of attorney-general of the United States.

Brookhart is the dominating figure in the jury. Even if he hadn't been named chairman, he would have been. When Brookhart was a boy he probably didn't play at all unless he was the captain.

This is not a reflection upon T. W. Preston of Ohio, George H. Moses, Henry F. Ashurst and Burton K. Wheeler, who sit with him on the jury. They are senatorial equestrians, Brookhart is a rough rider. The rough rider always dominates the scene by sheer picturesqueness.

But "no whitewash," is the cry of all of them.

Senator Wheeler is Daugherty's accuser. He is confident he has a case which if fairly presented will force Daugherty from office.

The whole proceeding depends on how his evidence is handled, and how the defense offered by the attorney-general's personal attorneys, ex-Senator George E. Chamberlain of Oregon, and Paul Howland of Ohio, is handled. The latter was Daugherty's lawyer in the impeachment proceedings brought last year.

Both are highly capable lawyers. On the other side stands Wheeler with a reputation for fearlessness gained in Montana as a prosecuting attorney, and Jones, Moses, Ashurst and Brookhart.

Daugherty Between
Between the battle lines will sit Daugherty, who has been the center of political storms for years.

In 1892 he was "investigated on a charge of being corruptly influenced to cast his vote as a member of the Ohio legislature for John Sherman to be U. S. senator. He was cleared.

Daugherty ran for the nomination for senator from Ohio in 1916, but was defeated, mainly through the "Morse case" which has been flung at him since. On this ground he was attacked in the senate in the Harding administration and it was aimed in the impeachment proceedings brought by Representative Keller of Minnesota.

Laxity in punishing war frauds cases, "deliberate conniving at the looting" of naval oil reserves in California were points in the case brought by Keller.

Wheeler adds others to these. Some of recent development, failure to arrest Col. Charles R. Forbes and others named in the veterans' bureau investigation and three principals in the oil probe, former Secretary of Interior Fall, E. L. Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair; delay in acting on complaints presented to the department of justice by the federal trade commission.

GIRL BRIDE SPANKED
LOS ANGELES, Mar. 27.—Myrtle Walsh, 14 year old bride of Jack Kensing, whose marriage was annulled yesterday, received a sound spanking from her mother, Mrs. May Walsh upon order from Superior Judge Sumnerfield. It was brought out at the annulment proceedings that the child bride had deceived both her husband and the marriage license clerk about her age at the time of the marriage last July.

The story is an adaptation from the famous Peter Clark MacFarlane novel, directed by Harold Shaw.

"Held to Answer" represents a preacher who throws public opinion to the winds. Accused of theft, he refuses to divulge the identity of the culprit, whom he knows. The people of the community ask him for his resignation and he refuses. Then his reward comes for being master of his own thoughts.

The action is located in and around San Francisco's famed Chinatown and underworld and much of it takes place under cover of darkness, thus revealing some striking photography.

GREAT INCREASE IN VACATIONISTS, RAILWAY REPORT

Survey Shows Remarkable Increase in Travel to Golden State

The 1924 summer season is expected to over-top last year's banner influx of Southern California vacationists by at least 20 per cent, according to Union Pacific officials, who have just completed a survey of the entire United States and Canada, through their many general agencies, practically every large population center in America reporting increased reservations.

"The increased business for the coming summer may be ascribed to several things," said T. C. Peck, General Passenger Agent of the Union Pacific. "The volume and effectiveness of the nationwide advertising campaign of the All Year Club of Southern California has been a large factor in interesting tens of thousands of eastern people in California and acquainting them with the fact that California is the ideal summer playground. This advertising campaign has done a great deal to dispel a prevailing idea that, because California is warm and balmy in winter it must be correspondingly warm in summer."

Advertising Campaign
 "The advertising of the All Year Club has been strongly supplemented by that of the railroads. The Union Pacific alone has spent and is spending hundreds of thousands of dollars advertising California in summer and the other roads have also spent large sums. This railroad advertising combined with that of the All Year Club has made California the most talked of territory in the world."

Another thing which is making summer tourist business show such remarkable gains each year, according to railroad officials, is the general satisfaction of California tourists who return to their homes with glowing accounts of the scenic beauties of the land and the whole hearted hospitality accorded them in California. Each returning tourist seems to send at least two friends the next year.

The survey just completed by the Union Pacific covers over a hundred eastern and midwestern points. Many of these reports

School Is Topic of Fourth Lecture in P.-T. A. Course

"The Elementary School Age" will be discussed tomorrow by Miss Ethel Salisbury in the auditorium at 323 North Brand boulevard as the fourth lecture in the course given by the extension department of the University of California, Southern Branch, under the auspices of the Glendale Federation, Parent-Teacher Associations.

Miss Salisbury, like the other three lecturers comes with a background of splendid training and wide experience. She received her A. B. degree from the University of Illinois, and her A. M. from Columbia University. Her experience includes elementary supervising for four years in the Rockford city schools; teaching and serving as principal for two years in the Duluth city schools; directing kindergarten and elementary education for two years in the Berkeley schools; director of the course of study in 1921 in the Los Angeles city schools; and associate professor in education in 1921 at the University of California.

Extend Time to File Partnership Returns

Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell was instructed yesterday by the treasury department to extend the time for the filing of partnership returns on Form 1065 and of fiduciary returns on Form 1041, for fiscal years ending January 31 and February 29, 1924, up to and including June 15, 1924.

Ten thousand firms operating as partnerships in southern California are affected by the order. Without the extensions granted, these returns would have been due on April 15 and May 15, respectively.

Any partnership or fiduciary with a fiscal year ending on January 31 or February 29 may file its return on or before June 15, 1924, without making formal request of Collector Goodcell for an extension.

ANNOUNCE SLASH ON S. P. FREIGHT RATES FROM L. A.

New Tariff to Take Effect April 19, Official of Line Declares

Reduction of freight rates between Los Angeles and Glendale, to take effect April 19, was announced at the weekly board meeting of the Chamber of Commerce by J. E. Light, district freight agent of the Southern Pacific Co., who declared that this action of the railroad has been taken as part of its campaign to build up the industrial development of Glendale and Burbank, the latter town also sharing in the benefits to be derived from the reduced rates.

The rate on general freight shipments will be $7.20 per ton from Los Angeles to Glendale, and $4.85 on industrial freight between these points, regardless of the contents of the car or the weight of the shipment.

These new rates, Mr. Light stated, apply only in connection with shipments from points beyond Los Angeles, but they will apply on all shipments from the port of Los Angeles and also on all shipments originating on other lines.

Shows Big Saving
 As showing the savings to be effected by the new arrangement Mr. Light cited the example of a carload of glass, which enters largely into building costs in this city. The present rate on a carload of glass between Glendale and Los Angeles, he stated, is now 6 cents per 100 pounds, or $24.00 on a 40,000 pound car, and the new rate that goes into effect on April 19 will show an immense saving to the shipper on this charge.

The amount of freight between Los Angeles and Glendale, Mr. Light said, is shown by the fact that the daily freight train that is sent out of the former city to Glendale and Burbank is almost always of such a size that it requires an extra freight engine to help it up the grade from Los Angeles, as the big engine on the train is unable by itself to start and haul the load. It will not be long, he predicted, before it will be necessary to have switch engines in constant operation in Glendale and Burbank to deliver the cars to the various industrial

WRITE WHY YOU CAME HERE; MAY GET CASH PRIZE

Next Saturday Is Final Day So Hurry and Get in Your Letter

Poetry as well as prose is revealed in the entries now pouring in upon the editor of the WHY I CAME TO GLENDALE contest, which is being conducted by The Glendale Evening News, as announced in its issue of March 22. In their eagerness to tell why this city was made their home, and possibly win one of the cash prizes offered, contestants become imbued with the muse of Milton and go into rhapsodies over "the fastest growing city in America." The editor knew many of Glendale's charms—but each mail revealed new ones, as the entries continue to reach his desk.

Varied Reasons
 There are still many reasons why this city lures tourists from the East and makes residents of them. The contest does not close until Saturday, March 29, which still allows everyone who was not born in Glendale to set forth the reason or reasons for coming here. Those who were born here should write in and tell why their parents selected Glendale as the choice of all Southern California cities.

And contestants are urged to say not only why they came to Glendale but why they left their old home town, if such a confession can be accomplished without embarrassment!

Make Letters Short
 The only condition of the contest is that the letters must not exceed 150 words, either prose or poetry. The Glendale Evening News offers a first prize of $25, a second prize of $15 and a third prize of $10 for the three best answers to WHY I CAME TO GLENDALE.

Be sure to get your entry in before midnight of Saturday, March 29, addressed to GLENDALE EDITOR, The Glendale Evening News, 139 South Brand boulevard, third floor, postmarked after midnight of that date will not be eligible for the contest. The judges, to be announced later, will be disinterested parties. Winners will be made public and awarded their prizes as soon as the judges can weigh the many entries and select the best three, in order of merit.

DISCUSS SCHOOLS AT MASONIC MEET

View of Layman, Student and Faculty Given; Musical Numbers Please

Facts and figures showing the amount of illiteracy in the United States at the present time, and an urgent plea for better education among all classes, formed the principal points of an address on public schools and education delivered last night by Irving Mitchell, president of the Los Angeles Masonic club and past master of University Lodge No. 394, at the first annual joint social meeting of Glendale Lodge No. 544 and Unity Lodge No. 368.

The meeting was held at the Masonic temple, and approximately 300 persons attended. After a program of addresses and musical numbers, the guests danced until a late hour. Music for the dancing was furnished by the Scouts orchestra. Light refreshments were served at the dance.

Football Star Talks
 Howard Elliott, Glendale's outstanding football star and president of the Student Body of the High school, gave a short talk on education as viewed by the students. He told of the various school activities and the benefits of sports in school work.

Further remarks on educational matters were given by George U. Moyse, principal of Glendale Union High school, who spoke from the faculty's viewpoint. Musical numbers were given by J. C. McClauskey and S. A. Merriken; Miss White, daughter of Thomas White, organist of Glendale lodge, sang several numbers; the Reed Hopper Four delighted with a novelty musical sketch, and Miss Hanning sang the Glendale song. At the conclusion of the program those present joined in singing "America."

AUTOMOBILE ON FIRE

A fire alarm at 8:25 o'clock this morning brought No. 5 truck of Station No. 1, in charge of Captain Ralph Dodsworth, to the corner of Colorado and Louise streets, where a blazing automobile was extinguished with chemicals. The damage was estimated at $5. The blaze was caused by a match, according to the report made to Fire Chief Arthur H. Langford.

Prize Winners In Contest Will Be Announced Friday

Now that the sun is shining bright and Glendale merchants have a real spring day for their spring fashion carnival, which opened last night and will continue Friday and Saturday, it has been decided that the prize-winning display windows and the winners of the fifteen cash prizes for coming nearest to picking the winning windows will not be announced until tomorrow.

Showers last night kept lots of folks home, so today is given them for visiting Glendale stores and seeing the attractive windows arranged by the merchants. It is still "open house" in Glendale stores, and after one has seen the loveliness in the windows he just has a foretaste of what is on display within doors.

High Postage Charged On Mail From Austria

Figured at pre-war prices, it cost Dr. C. H. Lewis, 1035 Fifth street, Santa Monica, $600 for postage on a letter mailed by him at Vienna, Austria, in which he notified Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell that he had received his income tax blanks, and had promptly forwarded them to the Los Angeles office.

In addition to the $600 pre-war postage on this letter, Dr. Lewis affixed postage on the envelope which contained his return which at pre-war prices would have cost $1200.

On the first letter, stamps costing 3000 kroonen were affixed, and the envelope in which the income return was enclosed bore stamps of 6000 kroonen value. "It's worth $1800 in postage to be able to get in touch with Los Angeles," wrote Dr. Lewis from far-away Vienna.

EVERY FAD AND FANCY OF SPRING ON DISPLAY

Glendale Business Men and Women Go To Big Expense To Stage Real Exhibition and They Receive Praise From Crowds

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
 Of The Evening News Staff.

The magic wand of Springtime has changed the winter world of fashions into a colorful carnival of beauty, it was revealed last night in the fashions displayed by Glendale merchants as a feature of the four-day exhibition in progress in local stores.

It was late afternoon when the sun broke through the gray haze of a rainy day, adding a real breath of spring to the formal greeting Glendale merchants had arranged for Dame Fashion.

While many attractive displays were to be seen in the stores all day yesterday, the real surprise came when display windows were unveiled at 7:30 o'clock last night, and fashion revues were held.

Riot of Colors
 It was a medley of color and style and the ensemble display was one of which any city might well be proud. Every fad and fancy of the spring mode was represented and when midday had chosen a delightful array of garments for her wardrobe, there was every conceivable accessory and offering a wide range in choice.

In addition to the artistic stock displayed, most of which came directly from New York, the clever and beautiful arrangements in the various stores for the fashion revues and window showings were deserving of high compliment.

Offer Cash Prizes
 Cash prizes have been offered for those selecting the best displays and to the favored merchants ribbons will be given. The idea of the fashion exhibition originated with the merchants of the Glendale Shopping News and was heartily supported by other merchants.

Colorful revues were given last night at these artistic stores, Pendroy's, South Brand at Harvard street; Webb's, North Brand at Wilson avenue, and the Paris Shoppe, 223 North Brand boulevard, as features of the "open house." In these stores also wonderful window settings greeted the crowds who responded to the announcement of the opening of the four day carnival of fashion.

All three of the above mentioned stores have received much of their stock directly from eastern fashion centers and nothing was left undone to present the many pretty things attractively to the public.

Offer Special Music
 Special orchestras played as pretty models paraded before the admiring gaze of Glendale women, and men too, who witnessed the revues. Other stores, while not featuring revues, held "open house" and showed equally as attractive things as those already mentioned.

Beautiful windows were seen at the C. J. Hatz store at 132 South Brand and at Ferber's at East Broadway and South Maryland avenue. Within doors there were also many tempting offerings.

And in all this riot of color and beauty, man was not overlooked for at the Webb's Men's shop at 105 South Brand boulevard; at the Robinson store, at 114 South Brand boulevard; and at Nisles at 135 1/2 South Brand, spring's dictates for the well dressed man

PUBLIC PROGRAM AT TUESDAY CLUB NOW COMPLETE

Lecture Recital on Friday Afternoon in Charge of Mrs. Rigdon

There is always one program in the year to which the Music department of the Tuesday Afternoon club invites the general public, and the open program for the current year will be given at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the auditorium of the clubhouse.

Mrs. Nathan Rigdon is in charge of the program and she has secured Agnes Woodward, director of the California School of Artistic Whistling of Los Angeles, to give a lecture recital.

Assisting with the program will be Miss Loraine Griffin, associate instructor; and Mrs. Madge Becker Quimby, former instructor; and the following young pupils: Helen White of Glendale; Genevieve Kilcoyne and Esther Campbell of Los Angeles. Miss Ella MacGlashan will be the accompanist.

Program in brief:

The program is announced as: introductory remarks by Miss Woodward; "Origin of the Whistling Art" by Miss Griffin, giving a sketch of the "Woodward Method of Bird Whistling;" whistling solo, "Spring Song" (Mendelssohn) by Helen White; blackboard demonstration of the different characters used in the "Woodward Method of Bird Whistling" by Miss Woodward and her little pupil, Genevieve Kilcoyne; whistling solo, "Spring Voices" (Strauss), one of the most rapid and difficult selections used by a whistler, Genevieve Kilcoyne; whistling solo, "A Garden Dance" (Vargas), Esther Campbell (tongue and teeth whistler); anecdotes, reminiscences and interesting experiences during fifteen or more years of teaching, told by Miss Woodward; whistling solo, "To A Wild Rose" (MacDowell), "The Year's at the

Hoover Frowns on Radio Censorship At Present Time

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover is opposed to radio censorship—and for a good reason.

In the course of a radio address last night, Hoover said that there were thousands of complaints against the type of programs broadcast by commercial stations, now uncontrolled in the matter of the kind of material they use.

"People complain," Hoover said, "but they take what ever they can, and realizing that it is not costing them anything. If the government attempted to censor the programs, however, the complaints would double and triple, and there would be immediate demands for a senatorial investigation."

Permits Run Light As Rain Pours Down

In a choice between building permits and rain, Glendale yesterday chose the much-needed moisture, content with a total of $10,700 for the day, bringing the monthly figure to $768,150 and that for the year to $2,603,379.

Following is the list of permits for the day:

THREE PROJECTS ARE ADDED FOR FLOOD CONTROL

Committee Fixes Total at $34,151,000 as Amount
Of Fund Needed

Recommending that a total of $34,151,000 is required for urgent flood control operations in Los Angeles county, the general committee in charge of the bond election campaign late yesterday added three projects to the lengthy list already agreed upon by the board of supervisors.

All of the flood control projects, calling for the expenditure of $1,850,000 more than had originally been decided upon by the board of supervisors, will be voted upon in conjunction with the presidential preferential primaries next month.

The three items added by the general committee yesterday upon the recommendation of J. W. Reagan, engineer in charge of flood control, include two projects for the correction of the San Pedro river channel, one to cost $500,000, the other $600,000, and an expenditure of $750,000 for laying rock in the reservoir of the Budding Rock dam.

Supervisors Approve
Following the meeting of the committee in Engineer Reagan's office, the advocates of the enlarged flood control program met with the Board of Supervisors and received the endorsement of that body.

The re-rocking of the Budding Rock reservoir was included in the original recommendation of the flood control committee, but the item was eliminated by the Board of Supervisors. The board has now agreed that the expenditure is required. The other two items calling for the issuance of $1,100,000 in bonds were not included in the original report. Subsequent findings of the engineers in charge of the project, however, led to yesterday's recommendations.

The proposed bond issue of $34,151,000 will be sufficient, the committee holds, to complete a general flood control program throughout the entire county. It includes an item of $1,100,000 for Tujunga; various amounts for correcting harbor conditions and for the construction of dikes and levees along rivers where flood conditions exist during periods of the year.

The addition of two projects for the correction of the San Pedro river channel will prevent serious loss to fruit growers in its vicinity. Other items, included in the original proposed expenditure of $32,301,000, also call for work along that channel.

Form Association In Sycamore Canyon

The chairman then called the meeting to order and R. V. Griffin was elected president and Mr. Brown secretary and treasurer.

Fight Over Evidence At Daugherty Probe

among others, the name of a president of the United States, and the celebrated uplifter, Mr. Vanderlip—

Senator Wheeler, who had previously been tilting with Howland, interrupted angrily:

"Mr. Vanderlip is not here to defend himself."

And Senator Brookhart joined in with:

"You cannot continue such remarks."

Become Excited
"Well," said Chamberlain, his voice choking with rage, "if Mrs. Stinson is going to invoke the name of President Harding, we want to know it. If she is going to invoke the name of any other high official, we want to know it."

The din became terrific as half a dozen voices tried to get in the records.

"It's no time for me to make a stump speech," yelled Senator Ashurst above the uproar. "You want us to walk into your trap," Ashurst shouted, pointing his finger at Daugherty's counsel. "You want us to say that this committee besmirched the great name of a man now dead. We have enough to weigh on us now. We won't walk into your trap."

Applause and hisses came from the spectators that choked the room.

"If you think I'm hiding behind any senatorial immunity I want to disabuse your minds right now," shouted Wheeler again. "I waive all immunity for what I do or say in connection with counsel for the attorney-general."

In the midst of the wrangle, Brookhart excused Mrs. Stinson from the stand, without Daugherty's counsel hardly getting started on their cross-examination.

ing in Sycamore Canyon is eligible to membership.

J. H. Searles and F. W. Clement were appointed to interview V. B. Stone, Glendale city manager, in regard to co-operating with county flood control for this district, and if possible to induce him to address this association in the near future.

SPRING'S BEAUTY IS REFLECTED IN FASHION OPENING

Grayness of Rainy Night Is Dispelled by Display
At Webb's Store

Springtime in all its beauty was expressed last night in the brilliant affair at the H. S. Webb store, North Brand at Wilson, in the formal opening of that popular fashion exhibition sponsored by Glendale merchants.

The Webb window displays are always a delight to milady's fancy and when the windows of Glendale stores were revealed at the appointed hour last night much of the grayness of the rainy day and evening was banished by the magic loveliness of springtime as revealed in the windows at the Webb store.

Graceful branches of delicate pink peach blossoms provide a colorful touch to the window arrangements. In one window semi-sports creations are shown on graceful figures. The dominating colors are Chinese yellow and jade green. One figure wears a smart dress of Chinese yellow with a hat in the same shade. The other figure is gowned in jade green and tan figured Roshanara crepe with hat in harmonizing colors. A clever tan short coat for spring wear is also shown.

Touces of Spring
In the other window a wealth of large figured Georgette crepe is shown in colors and designs so much wanted by the smart dressers for spring. Chinese yellow, tomato and poudre blue are three colors emphasized.

The same spring touches were seen within the store. On the first floor wistaria and apple blossoms were used on long poles of bamboo, while on the center aisle tables and ledges vases of American Beauty roses added to the artistic displays of stock in various departments.

Two photographs, loaned by the Salmacia Brothers, furnished music for the first floor.

Living Models
The big feature of the "at home" at Webb's was the fashion revue on the second floor, which was crowded to capacity throughout the evening.

Beautiful and graceful models appearing were Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Marker, Miss Beth Humes, Miss Mary Chapman, Miss Olsen and Mrs. Brown of Glendale, and Miss Peggy Blake and Miss Nona Rand of Los Angeles.

It was a kaleidoscopic glimpse of what Dame Fashion decrees for spring in the lines of gowns, coats, suits, wash dresses, sweaters, skirts, hats, shoes, glove and other accessories so necessary to milady's wardrobe.

Sport Dresses Shown
During a musical program by the Four of Us' orchestra, knitted sport dresses and suits were first shown. Then followed sport dresses in Roshanara and flat crepe, sport suits and coats.

The next showing was of afternoon dresses in popular materials and colors. There was also introduced attractive wash dresses made by the Better-Made Frocks company of Los Angeles.

Finally one enjoyed beautiful beaded evening gowns and wraps.

Fancy Millinery
Millinery from New York completed many of the outfits, while the Meadowbrook sport hats made in California were shown with the sports clothes.

There were also many lovely things shown in the way of beads, under-arm bags, parasols, shoes and gloves.

At the Webb Men's shop on South Brand boulevard the latest for men in Hart Shafter & Marx clothes and in Clothcraft suits were on display.

Every class in the school is represented by two members of the council; the orchestra by one; the three glee clubs by one each; and the newspaper staff by one.

SPRING DISPLAY IN STORE SHOWS LATEST FASHION

Pendroy Windows, Tableaux
Draw Style's Votaries
To View Dresses

Pendroy's, at South Brand boulevard and Harvard street, was host last night to hundreds of Glendale folks, old and young, who thronged the big store building, eager to see the brilliant displays featuring the opening of Glendale's spring fashion exhibition.

All day heavy canvas had veiled the two main display windows of the store and when the hour for unveiling arrived, pictures of loveliness were revealed, a delightful foretaste of what was in store for those visiting the various departments of this popular shopping center.

These Brand boulevard windows have backgrounds of arched panels in gold and green, with oblong shaped polychrome parchment lanterns on either side, and in front a futuristic apple tree in blossom effect.

Evening Gowns—One of the windows was devoted to lovely evening gowns and wraps in black and white and the other to sports togs, artistic backgrounds, rich materials, graceful lines and charming models, just made one happy that spring was here. A special feature of the window display is a collection of pictures of the fashion displays, taken by Ostrom of 206 East Broadway.

A profusion of spring flowers was used on the first floor, where the various lines of stock were attractively arranged for those passing to the second floor for the fashion tableaux.

Spring Is Motif—In the second floor annex a stage had been made in the form of a large gold frame, draped in back with black satin and hung in front with rich old rose velvet curtains. Showers of pastel shaded paper with floral touches well over the lights and baskets of roses added to the beauty of the setting.

During the evening beautifully gowned models appeared in the large picture frame. "Spring, 1924," a cunning little miss of 4 years of age, first appeared in a bower of flowers. Then followed tableaux from the nursery age of childhood through boyhood, girlhood and womanhood. Pretty models showed a medley of attractive things for sports wear, afternoon and evening.

Living Models—The troupe of models included Norma Le Hadden, daughter of W. A. Hadden, Pendroy's window decorator; Betty Mink, Erma Smith and Carl Hanes, and Hilda Bernard, Mildred and Doris Osmon, Charlotte Busby, Hazel Thomson, Vivian Allspaugh and Mrs. Ruth Pendleton.

Music was furnished by a group of students from the Glendale Union High school orchestra: Beatrice Sutton, saxophone; Lillian Sutton, violin, and Leane Rose, piano.

During the evening hundreds of guests were received at the store to see the countless spring creations exhibited and the many attractive offerings in the various departments.

To observe minute objects at a distance a telescopic microscope has been perfected.

were shown in beautiful window settings and within the stores. Fads and fashions in foot wear were also shown at the Buster Brown shoe store, Glendale Bootery, Ideal Shoe store, M. and L. Bootery and Kafateria Shoe store.

Finally it may be added that the springtime fashion show includes things for the home and at the New England Furniture company at 231 South Brand boulevard many lovely things can be found with which to "dell" up the home for spring and early summer.

Today, tomorrow and Saturday Dame Fashion will reign supreme in Glendale stores with Glendale merchants receiving Glendaleans in her honor.

Beauty Spots—Other fashion beauty spots revealed last night, when the brilliant lights of spring fashions were turned on in Glendale for the spring exhibition, were Ferber's on East Broadway and the Paris Shoppe on North Brand boulevard.

Another fashion revue was featured at the Paris Shoppe, in addition to attractive window displays.

St. Patrick's day furnished the inspiration for the arrangement of one of the display windows, where creations for evening in shades of green were shown in a bower of spring flowers and greenery. In the other window were countless tempting sports togs.

With vast window space to fill, Ferber's displayed everything imaginable for the spring wardrobe and after feasting on the windows, store patrons and friends found much of beauty within doors.

Fashions for the well dressed man were featured at the Robinson store, where wonderfully arranged windows showed things for men and boys.

Added fashions for men were shown across the street at Ed Nisile's and at Webb's Men's store.

BIG INCREASE IN TOURIST TRAVEL

Year 1924 to Set Record in Number Coming to California, Belief

are voluminous but the following synopsis from widely scattered cities are representative of the entire list:

Toronto—1923 business to California was 50 per cent greater than 1922 and 100 per cent larger than 1921. Notwithstanding this, we expect our 1924 summer business to exceed that of 1923 by 10 to 25 per cent.

Boston—We are very optimistic and look for an increased volume of business to California this summer.

New York City—Our inquiries and reservations to California are ahead of this time last year.

New Orleans—Outlook for business this summer is exceptionally good. Our heaviest business will be in June, July and August.

Pittsburgh—This summer's business to California will be at least as good as that of 1923, which was a banner year.

Cincinnati—Peel very confident that our California summer tourist business will be as good, if not better than last year. The excellent advertising of the All Year Club and that of our own, in conjunction with our low summer tourist excursion fares to California, insures a big business this summer.

Chicago—Inquiries are considerably larger than this time last year and a banner California business is expected this summer.

Atlanta—Substantial increase in inquiries and actual reservations over last year.

Dallas—Inquiries and reservations indicate an advance of 15 per cent over last year.

Birmingham—Bookings with tourist agencies and actual reservations point to substantial increase over last year for California tourist business this summer.

St. Louis—Everything indicates an increase over last year's California business.

Minneapolis—A little too early to compute actual percentage of increase for California business this summer but increase will be a substantial one over last year.

Butte—Not having as many inquiries as at this time last year owing to the hundreds of people who took advantage of our mid-winter California excursions but expect them to come in rapidly from now on.

Boise—Too early as yet to make accurate estimate but as California is our logical summer playground and business makes material increase from year to year expect it to show increase over 1923.

The Union Pacific is making extensive preparations to handle the biggest summer tourist business to California in its history, according to C. A. Redmond of the U. P.

"In order to take care of this increasing business we have added new equipment to our through trains including, a full line of new 'honeymoon' type sleepers, 15 de luxe observation cars and many new dining cars. Our trains will be run in as many sections as are required to handle the business."

firms that are already established and those that are expected in this region in the near future.

The reduction in freight rates, Mr. Light asserted, means a considerable cut in the present revenues, but the executives of the system regard it as an investment toward the industrial development of Glendale and Burbank, and any new industries that may locate in these two cities will be business producers for the Southern Pacific company and will, he believes, stand on a footing of close friendship for the line.

Improving Roads
P. J. Hayselden, reporting for the highways and bridges committee, showed the improvements that are now being made on the roads leading to Glendale from Los Angeles, as a direct result of the work that is being done on the Second street tunnel, his report showing that a network of highways of the most approved types, capable of handling a much greater volume of traffic than is now possible, will shortly facilitate the intercourse between this city and other regions of the Southland.

At Hollywood Junction on Sunset boulevard, Mr. Hayselden stated, there has been erected a huge sign board lighted in colors, showing the route and the distance to various cities, and of these cities the names of Glendale, Hollywood and San Bernardino are shown in green lights that distinguish them from the names of other cities on the board.

A recommendation was made by Mr. Hayselden that proper street signs and lights be placed to direct people to the new Southern Pacific station.

Flood Bond Issue
Attorney Bert P. Woodard, reporting on the proposed bond issue for county flood control, stated that the amounts which it is proposed to spend in the Glendale district of the $32,301,000 asked will reach a total of $700,000, a sum larger than was asked for originally by the city officials in their efforts to secure funds for flood protection.

The $700,000 will be divided as follows: Pickens Canyon, $100,000; Verdugo and Sycamore Canyons, $450,000; Dunsuir Canyon, $150,000, according to the budget outlined by the flood control commissioners.

The area suitable for industrial sites in Glendale was the subject of a report by Director Hayselden, who stated that it would be advisable to make an immediate survey to determine just where sites adapted to large concerns could be secured, either in Glendale or across the Southern Pacific tracks in Los Angeles in the territory immediately tributary to Glendale.

President W. E. Hewitt stated that there are now over eighty industrial concerns in Glendale, and he estimated the ground suitable for plant sites as around 200 acres.

Plans are to be drawn up by a special committee for the holding of an open forum meeting at an early date, when it is hoped to have Aimee Semple MacPherson deliver an address on "Civilization Standing on Four Legs."

The woman preacher has already signified her willingness to speak at a meeting such as the one that is being planned, and it is hoped to make the affair one of the biggest ever held in Glendale.

President Hewitt complimented the Hi-Y club for the excellent manner in which its Father and Son banquet was staged on Tuesday night, and he also paid a warm tribute to Mrs. Mattison B. Jones and the Glendale Music club for the way in which the oratorio Elijah was presented.

Davis Asks Report
Councilman Sam Davis requested the board to furnish him with a report showing the scope of the activities of Community Service and of the results it is accomplishing, in order that the City Council may decide whether the organization is rendering full value for the $3600 that is being expended on its maintenance annually by the city.

President Hewitt and others of the board felt that this was something that lay within the scope of the City Council, rather than in that of the Chamber of Commerce, and a motion by George H. Bentley that a committee be appointed to render an informal report on the subject raised by Mr. Davis was withdrawn and adjournment was taken in the middle of the discussion without any definite action having been taken.

Secretary E. F. Saunders was authorized to attend the three-day meet of the Association of Southern Commercial Secretaries that is to be held at Eureka on April 26, 27 and 28.

Many Glendale purchasers who have since inspected their property have been exceptionally well pleased. Offices of the tract sales corps are located at 249 North Brand boulevard.

Labor Party's Growth Is Told by Speaker

Paul Blanchard, an authority on the labor movement in Great Britain, was the speaker at Occidental college yesterday morning, when he spoke on the growth of the political democracy and the great significance of the labor power today, both in England and in America.

"The strength of organized labor in England is astounding," he declared. "There are twice as many labor unions in Great Britain as in the United States in proportion to the population of the countries. The organized labor is supreme in that country. The Confederation of Industries is the great labor group."

"Great Britain owes a war debt of 32 billion dollars and it takes half of her national revenue income daily to pay the interest on that sum, but they are promptly paying the interest. England is taking the debt seriously, while other nations are not even paying the interest."

Remodeling Stage at Wilson Avenue School

Work was begun this week on remodeling the stage in the auditorium at Wilson Avenue school. The entrance doors are being widened and the back is to be fitted with adjustable curtains. The stage is to be widened and new curtains and valance will complete the transformation of the old affair that had become obsolete. The work is under the direction of the Pasadena Furniture company. The expense will be met by the school, assisted by the school board—and the Parent-Teacher association.

From January 1 to March 1 the Buick Motor company shipped from its Flint and Detroit plants 10,317 freight cars of automobiles. This included 10 solid train loads, equally divided between the two months. Of the total number of freight cars employed 7,722 went from Flint and 2,595 from Detroit.

COMPARE AUTO COSTS

During the next 12 months three times as much money will be spent on automobiles in the United States as it takes to run the government. The estimated expenditure on cars, trucks and their maintenance is $22,000,000,000.

AUTO TRAVEL WESTWARD GROWING

Incoming California Traffic Shows Increase of 135 Per Cent

Estimating that each car averaged three passengers 200,000 tourists and settlers came to California last year by automobile or more than double the motor immigration of 1922. To be exact the gain was 135 per cent.

According to the amazing statistics just made public by Will H. Marsh, superintendent of the state's motor vehicle department, non-resident licenses were issued during 1923 to 66,045 motorists as compared with 28,300 in 1922.

More than one-half, or 56 per cent to be exact, of the incoming motorists came from other than the nearby states, showing that the lure of California is appealing to the entire country.

Five states called for 28,514 licenses as follows: Washington, 8,838; Oregon, 7,250; Arizona, 4,550; Texas, 4,123; Colorado, 3,753.

How steady has been the increase in California motor car immigration with each successive year may be visualized by 17,611 tourists licenses in 1920, 20,725 in 1921; 28,300 in 1922, and 66,045 in 1923.

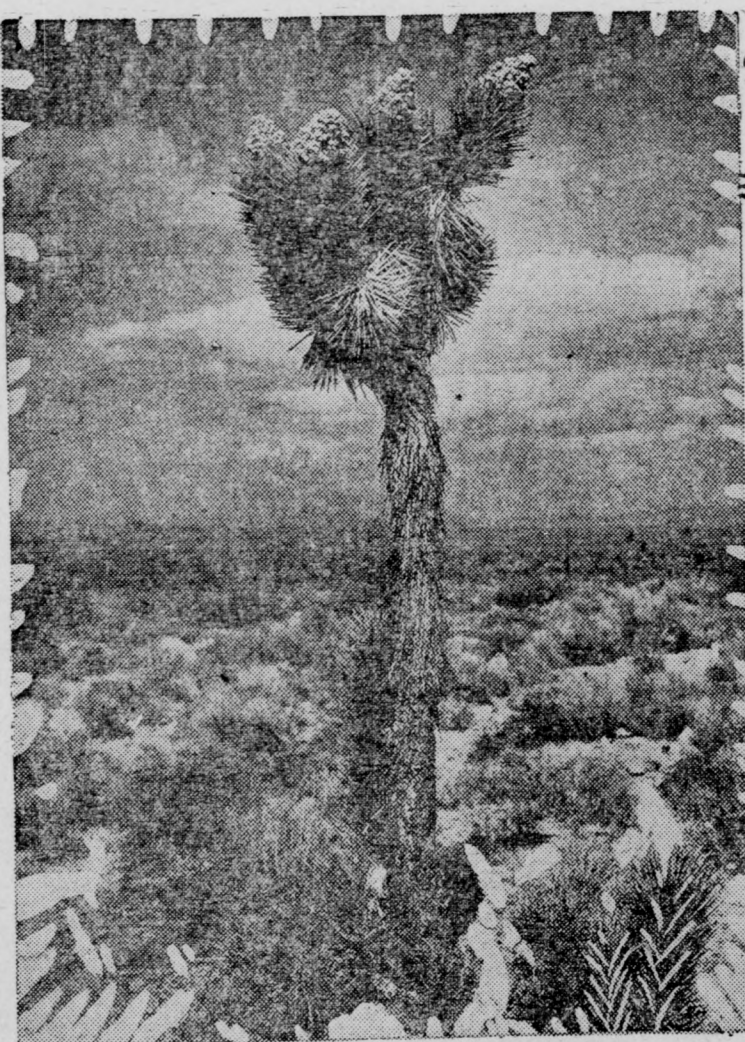

"Figures at hand," said the superintendent, "make me feel safe in estimating that approximately 40,000 tourists' cars entered Southern California from other states during the year just ended. That is almost 12,000 more than the total California non-resident registration for 1922."

FIRST UNDER HOOD

In 1902, when the automobile was known as a "horseless carriage," Claude E. Cox, of Terre Haute, Indiana, distinguished himself by building the first car that had its engine under the hood in front, instead of under the seat.

NEW YORK LEADING

The nation's passenger automobile and motor truck registration is now 15,281,295 or one motor-driven vehicle to every 7.2 persons in the Union. New York state still leads in registration with 1,214,000 cars and trucks.

Trip Leads Over Boulevards and Mountain Roads to Little Known Nooks Where Beauty and Romance Are Found

The Southern California motorist has no cause for worry that the list of scenic places within reach of his home may be covered too soon and his plans for a Sunday trip become increasingly difficult of formulation. One has but to turn the nose of his automobile in almost any direction and start out and the gasoline chariot will bring him to points hitherto undreamed of sites of historic, scenic or romantic interest.

A Reo sport brougham, equipped with balloon tires, started out last Monday on a discovery trip with R. C. Hennessy, manager of the Reo plant in Glendale, at the wheel. Hennessy wasn't quite sure where he was going when he started out, but the photographer found plenty of interest to his camera and much that would be interesting to any motorist.

Through Mint Canyon, out through Mint canyon, with its beautifully smooth concrete, the Reo rolled. Much of the country along this route between Saugus and Harold reminds one of east-central California, or of some parts of the east. Gently rolling until the approach and grade over the summit at the half-way mark, the occasional fruit orchards and farms have a distinctly foreign effect to the Southern Californian, accustomed to strenuous activity, irrigation and rotation of crops.

The grade over the summit reaches only an elevation of 3423 feet and then drops down slightly into Harold and Palmdale. From Palmdale the balloon tires were turned out into the desert toward Little Rock and then almost straight eastward to the practically deserted townsite of Llano where once a Socialist colony was planted but failed to flourish. Near Little Rock are some of the finest specimens of the giant Joshua cactus to be found anywhere in Southern California and the photographer was fortunate enough to find some of them in full bloom.

New Speedometer Used In Sweden

One of the features of the new motor traffic laws in Sweden provides for the compulsory use of recording speedometers on all motor vehicles to indicate, not only the number of miles the car has run, but also the rate of speed during any part of the run.

Exercise Caution In Approaching All Curbs

To keep the front wheels in proper alignment, great care should be exercised when approaching curbs. It is not necessary to drive the car very close. Striking curbs not only throws the steering mechanism out of alignment, but also damages tires.

Should Keep Battery In Upright Position

Always keep the battery in a vertical position when taking it out or replacing it in the car. Some sediment may be in the bottom of the jars, and tipping them may cause the sediment to get between the plates and so short-circuit them.

"Price Class"

the mysterious stranger in the motor industry

Does a difference in price indicate a difference in quality? Why is one car priced 25% to 50% higher than another of the same quality? The 4 questions that a buyer should ask when considering any car.

HERE are facts based on world's engineering authority. If you have any intention of buying an automobile, you are urged to read them.

No "Price Class"

There are only two kinds of automobiles today. Economically produced cars which give you more for your money. And cars which are not, and give you less.

Price does not indicate intrinsic worth. But an individual maker's cost of production.

Hence two cars may show a price difference of $400 to $1,200 and more. And be of the same quality.

The difference in price simply shows that it cost one maker more to make this car than the other. Judging value on price, this is folly. Price class is a myth.

Where the Difference Comes in

Studebaker, producing 150,000 cars yearly, has reduced engineering cost to $3.33 per car.

This is based on a total engineering cost of $500,000 a year, which is the least on which any manufacturer can maintain an efficient engineering department.

Thus a manufacturer producing but 20,000 cars a year must add $25 per car for engineering, or eight times as much as Studebaker.

Other fixed overheads have been reduced proportionately. And these influence Studebaker prices.

A set of body dies costs $100,000. It will produce many thousand sets of body stampings, each one as perfect as though there were only a dozen made.

By building 50,000 bodies from a single set of dies, Studebaker reduces the die cost per body to only $2.00.

The average small manufacturer whose volume will enable him to build only 5,000 bodies from a set of dies in the same time in which Studebaker builds 50,000 has to charge each body $20 for die cost. The difference of $18 is in the price but not in the body. The customer pays it but he gets nothing tangible for it. It is one of the penalties of uneconomical manufacture.

Thus a car economically produced in quantity, such as the Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car, can be sold ings than are used in any competitive car, within $1,500 of its price.

We subject Studebaker cars to 30,000 inspections. That requires 1,200 men. All told over 70,000 hand and machine operations are performed in the manufacture of a Studebaker car. In so many operations, though each one is small, there is great opportunity for economy and savings. 15% premium is paid on many steels to insure Studebaker specifications instead of "commercial run" used in cars many times Studebaker price.

No finer car can be built than the Studebaker of today. Only famous foreign cars and the most costly of American cars, compare.

See a Studebaker—Then Decide

Buy no car until you've seen a Studebaker. Go over it, point for point. Consult any unbiased expert. Ask your banker. And you will own a Studebaker.

Get an Answer to These 4 Questions Before Buying Any Car

1—Is this an assembled car? Or "partly" assembled. Insist on this answer. Assembled cars pay a profit to from 75 to 100 parts makers alone.

2—What sort of bearings? Studebakers are Timken-equipped. Everlasting smoothness and quiet performance result.

3—How many cars a year does this maker produce? Small productions mean either a higher price or cheaper car.

4—What sort of upholstery? Studebaker closed models are done in Chase Mohair, the finest material for this purpose known. Open models are upholstered in genuine leather.

Why Studebaker excels the world in body building

For 72 years Studebaker has been a builder of quality vehicles.

This historical tradition has been inbred in generation after generation of coachmakers. And the Indiana city of South Bend is known as a world-Mecca of artisans of this craft.

In the modern $10,000,000 Studebaker body plants, there are sons and fathers and grandfathers working side by side. Their religion is fine coach building. And this is reflected in their work.

As fine body builders, Studebaker stands supreme. No other maker has the experience of Studebaker. No other the Studebaker traditions to inspire him.

at $1260 A clear saving of $200 to $300 over uneconomically manufactured automobiles.

The uneconomical manufacturer is not profiting. He is unfortunately situated, that is all.

Equalled Only by Costliest Foreign and American Makes

All Studebaker models are equipped with Timken bearings. There are few cars in America, regardless of price, which equal ours on this point. In our Light-Six, for instance, we put more Timken bear-

HIGH STANDARDS SEEN IN VALUES

Efficiency of Factory and Correct Engineering Designs Needed

The high standards maintained by the manufacturers of Buick automobiles assure every purchaser of getting the highest value for every dollar spent, according to Ray L. Galvin, sales manager for Tanner & Hall, Ltd., South Brand boulevard at Maple, local Buick dealers. The methods by which these standards are maintained, he said, are:

First—By being absolutely certain that correct engineering principles were used as a basis on which to build the Buick car. Wide experience and careful research showed the value of the valve-in-head principle of motor construction, and Buick adopted this principle at the outset.

Second—The importance of developing a factory along the lines of highest efficiency in which every important part of the car could be built under the careful supervision of the engineering department that designed the product.

Third—The importance of developing a sales and service organization, nation-wide in scope, that would make it possible for Buick owners everywhere to be assured of high grade authorized Buick service.

Should Test Wheels For Side Play Often

Test the wheels for side play as often as once a month. Side play causes excessive bearing wear and tire wear as well. Jack up each wheel, grasp it firmly and push pull it to see if any side motion is apparent. In many cases the wheel bearings are adjustable.

FORD PREDICTED FUTURE OF AUTO

Article Written In 1910 Is Quoted as Prophecy Of Present Day

How clearly Henry Ford saw the future of the automobile and how well he prophesied it, is shown in an article written by him in February 1910, and published in a Detroit newspaper.

In 1910, as the article states, 2,000,000 horse-drawn vehicles were sold as against 80,000 automobiles. How the prophesied reversal came appears in figures for last year which show the sale of approximately 4,000,000 motor cars during 1923 as compared with 100,000 horse-drawn vehicles. The article follows, in part:

"The automobile of the past attained success in spite of its price, because there were more than enough purchasers to be found to take the limited output of the then new industry. Proportionately few could buy, but those few could keep all the manufacturers busy and price therefore had no bearing on sales.

"The automobile of the present is making good because the price has been reduced just enough to add sufficient new purchasers to take care of the increased output. Supply and demand, not cost, has regulated the selling price of automobiles. The car of today is better by far than the car of a few years ago—natural result of experience. The price is lower, just enough lower to add sufficient possible purchasers to buy the increased output.

"The automobile of the future must be enough better than the present car to beget confidence in the man of limited means and enough lower in price to insure sales for the enormously increased output."

INDUSTRY'S NEEDS TOLD BY DEALER

Vellie Agent Shows Amounts of Material Demanded for 1924 Output

The average automobile today weighs less than 3,000 pounds and the average car owner never gives a thought as to just what is behind the automobile he drives. Directly and indirectly the automobile industry supports more than 7,000,000 persons in the United States.

Some idea of the vastness of this industry is cited by H. N. Burton, 306-308 E. Colorado street, Vellie and Jordan dealer, who gives estimated figures of the amount of raw material which will be used during the present year by the industry.

"All automobile manufacturers are reporting a far greater demand than a year ago," he says. "In the case of Vellie, this company sold 90 per cent more cars in the month of February than during the same month of a year ago and its production for the first six months of the year will far exceed a year ago.

"The figures for raw materials to be used in the automobile factories of the country are based on the assumption that the demand for cars will show a great increase over a year ago. Present indications point to the fact that 3,000,000 tons of iron and steel will be used this year; 75,000,000 pounds of aluminum; 110,000,000 pounds of copper; 30,000,000 square feet of glass; 20,000 tons of lead; 9,000,000 pounds of nickel; 4,000,000 tons of coal; 9,000,000 gallons of paint and varnish; 40,000,000 pounds of hair and padding; 500,000,000 board feet of lumber; 130,000,000 square feet of imitation leather; 15,000,000 yards of upholstery cloth and 100,000,000 square feet of upholstery leather.

Five Bridges Needed to Complete Highway

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 27.—State Highway Engineer R. M. Morton has been instructed by the Highway Commission to prepare specifications and advertise for bids for bridge construction over the Truckee River on the segment now being constructed between Truckee and the Nevada state line.

Chairman Harvey M. Toy said the authorization was part of the commission's plan to hasten construction of the Victory highway.

Not less than five bridges will be necessary it is said and the cost may approximate $50,000 each. With additional structures over the Southern Pacific lines, in addition to the five crossing the Truckee river, the number may be increased to nine.

Nevada County will not be asked to participate in the cost said Toy.

Assert Blue Sky Due to Shell Around Air

COPENHAGEN, March 26.—A new solution of the old question, "Why is the sky blue?" is offered by Professor Vigard, of Christiania university, who announces that he has made a discovery which suggests that the atmosphere of the earth outside the stratosphere is shut up as if in a balloon whose wall is a solid mass of crystalline particles of nitrogen.

According to the professor, this wall is what gives the sky its blue color and stops wireless telegraph waves from being lost in the ether.

PACKARD SIX

Balloon Tires optional equipment on all models at reasonable extra cost

It costs less to own a Packard Six than many cars whose list price is even $1000 less than Packard. That Packard quality in manufacture and leadership in design result in real economies is evidenced by the following letter from "a man who owns one":

"On purchasing my Packard Six Sedan, I felt I was spending far more than I should. Since that time, in figuring the upkeep as compared with the car I previously had, the initial expense has been cut down so much as to make my Packard now stand me far less than the cost of the car I had contemplated purchasing.

"You will no doubt be interested in looking over the following figures:

"Have done up to the present nearly 10,000 miles, making most of my trips in the Catskills with seven passengers, averaging each time 18 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

"As to oil consumption, I have used exactly 12 gallons and then only when I drained and refilled the crank case.

"Have never spent one cent for repairs of any kind and the same four tires which came on the car look today as good as new.

"I will gladly verify personally any of the above statements to any one whom you might wish to refer to me."

Daily Supply of Gas Increased Last Year

Department of the interior figures, compiled by W. C. Hill, petroleum economist, show that gasoline production in the United States during 1923 was 7,555,945,143 gallons, a daily average of 20,701,220 gallons and an increase of 21.33 per cent over the output of 1922. Imports were 191,313,540 gallons, an increase of 207.91 per cent over the preceding year. The total new supply (production plus imports) in 1923, was 7,747,258,683 gallons, a daily average of 21,225,366 gallons, or 23.67 per cent over the 1922 new supply. For the entire year the new supply exceeded the total demand by 2.53 per cent.

Casualty Rate Among Automobiles Is High

The present "safety factor" for motor cars is 90 per cent, according to W. W. Matthews, chief inspector of the Highway Department of Pennsylvania. Out of every 100 motor cars registered in the state each year, one is burned, two are stolen, three are damaged on the road, and four are wrecked in collisions—making a total of 10 casualties in each 100.

AMERICAN CARS ABROAD

More than 300,000 American-made passenger cars and motor trucks were sold in more than 100 foreign countries during 1923. Shipments of parts and accessories from this country averaged considerably more than $5,000,000 each month.

Favors Abolishing Horns on All Autos

According to Judge C. C. Dalton, a strict traffic enforcement jurist in Seattle, Wash., automobile horns are dangerous and should be abolished. Blaring, screeching horns on cars invite disaster and reckless driving, and should be eradicated or changed for some new kind of warning, in his opinion.

to Halt Studebaker
in Run from Lake

The power under the hood of the Big Six Studebaker was amply proven during the week end under the severe tests that were furnished by the snow and slush blockade on the roads leading to Arrowhead Lake, when many cars were stuck over night and many others had to be hauled over the ridge before they could make any headway.

O. L. Papineau, 359 Ivy street, was one of those who made the trip to the lake last Saturday, and that night the snow started coming down, until on Sunday there were three feet of snow on the ridge and two feet on the lake. Mr. Papineau and his party left Los Angeles at 11:45 a. m. Saturday and reached Arrowhead Lake at 4 o'clock.

As Mr. Papineau had to be back here by Monday he started to drive round the lake to come out by the desert route, and after crossing the dam and heading toward the clubhouse he encountered a hill with an 18 per cent grade, where the snow and the slush made any kind of progress difficult. Many cars that had been trying to make the grade gave up the attempt and were hauled to the top of the ridge by a big truck, but Mr. Papineau sent the Big Six touring car at it, most of the time in low gear, and climbed the grade under his own power, considering himself lucky when he could snatch three miles an hour out of her. Another Big Six coupe was the only other car that was able to make the climb in the several hours that Mr. Papineau was there, while the other cars, some of them high powered, expensive machines, failed dismally.

So bad was the route, he says, that many cars that tried to reach the lake via Waterman Canyon were abandoned, their drivers returning for them the next day.

Experts Agree Seven Cents Mileage Costs

Government budget experts have just made their estimate as to the cost of operation of an automobile on a mileage basis.

In preparing the annual budget the government statisticians have figured original cost, depreciation, gasoline, tires, etc., and reports that the cost per mile for motor cars is 7 cents and for motorcycles 3 cents.

Allowance is made for certain conditions, such as mountainous regions and poor roads, but while the figures may be high in some localities and low in others, the experts state that the 7 per cent figure is adequate and fair, and it has been accepted by the budget committees in figuring estimates.

LONG RUN TESTS ABILITY OF AUTOS

Chevrolet Touring Car Shows
Power and Economy in San Francisco Trip

The trip to San Francisco and back is easy and comfortable in a Chevrolet touring car, especially if one is driving one of the 1924 models, says A. F. McCain, a salesman for C. L. Smith, Orange and Colorado streets, local Chevrolet dealer, who has just returned from the Bay City after a week's business trip.

Mr. McCain left Glendale at 6 a. m., on March 17, and reached Oakland that night at 8:30 o'clock, making the run at a steady clip and finishing without any mishap. The run from San Francisco was made in 20 hours, and in spite of the fact that rain was falling during the entire journey the Chevrolet never faltered in its stride, hugging the road without the aid of chains and rolling up a perfect score all the way home.

The consumption of gasoline and oil was also in strict adherence to the Chevrolet's standards of economy, and Mr. McCain came back from his trip filled up with talking points about the Chevrolet that he had never dreamed of before in his experience as a salesman.

Misalignment Often Tire Trouble Cause

One of the most prolific causes of tire trouble and premature wear on the casing is wheel misalignment. This means, of course, the wheels are not running true and it may be any one of the four.

The front wheels are cambered to provide ease in steering and are thus toed in to ease for the natural spread in driving. But if the pitch, or camber, is wrong the car will not meet the highway naturally and thus some part of the casing will have to bear an unnatural brunt. Again, if the rim is not setting snugly the tire will wobble and it is sometimes difficult to tell this from misalignment.

Few Cars in Germany On Account of Price

Germany, with a population of 60,000,000, has 152,329 passenger automobiles and trucks, the former numbering 100,329. This is an average of one motor vehicle for each 400 of population. Germany's total of motor vehicles is only about one-tenth the number in New York state.

Spinach is a Persian plant.

Sedan Defies Elements

HUDSON OWNER travels in comfort through the cold of early morning and shuts out driving wind storm that covers drivers of open cars with dust. Passing through desert region the ventilation in the Hudson Sedan affords a current of cool air in hottest weather and makes traveling a pleasure hitherto unknown.

Proper Adjustments On Brakes Help Car

Never adjust brakes while the rear of the car is supported on jacks, as the car is not in its general running position. This condition is especially bad should one side of the car be jacked up higher than the other. The best method is to adjust the brakes on the road, with the car running under the most severe operating conditions which may be encountered.

Ever Ready Blowout Patch Easy to Make

An emergency blowout patch can be made of a piece of canvas, folded double, and large enough to be caught and held by the rim. Size of the patch depends on the size of tire. Do not neglect to use the tire sleeve as well.

Men with imaginations have always set the fashions of the world, but it took considerable imagination on the part of J. C. Church, prominent refrigerating engineer of Los Angeles, to think of using a Hudson sedan for touring through deserts and mountains.

The results of his experiments in this line are so convincing that, according to information given to P. K. Kelley, local Hudson dealer, 228 North Brand boulevard, he is a permanent convert to the closed car idea for comfort in all circumstances. In telling of a three-day trip, just completed by him, Mr. Church said:

"I left Los Angeles for Bakersfield and the desert regions, west of here, one morning before sunrise. I got to the Ridge Route before the sun was up and by the time I had climbed to three thousand feet elevation the air was so cold that people going by in open cars had to be bundled up with overcoats, sweaters, lap robes, etc., to keep warm. I found no difficulty in being perfectly comfortable in the sedan without an overcoat."

The next day, in crossing the desert, the temperature rose to such an extent that I was compelled to open all the windows and the windshield to keep cool. Contrary to what I had expected, the Hudson sedan gave me all the ventilation I needed.

"Upon my return via the coast route I ran into a terrific wind storm near Ventura. Once again I closed all the windows and found myself riding at ease while other people were being nearly choked with dust."

"When it comes to open cars, I can truly say, holding up my right hand, 'never again.'"

Law In Pennsylvania Protects Car Owners

Selling or buying a motor vehicle without certificate of title in Pennsylvania carries a penalty of $100 to $1000 fine and imprisonment from two to ten years; altering or forging a title, $500 to $5000 fine and imprisonment from two to ten years; destroying distinguishing marks on a vehicle, $100 to $1000 fine and imprisonment from two to ten years; misstatement of facts in application for certificate of title, $100 to $1000 fine or two to ten years' imprisonment and cancellation of title. The stealing of a motor vehicle is a felony, punishable by a maximum fine of $5000 and imprisonment of ten years.

Inspect Radiator In Using Cold Solution

Before any anti-freeze solution is placed in the radiator, the circulating system should be inspected for leaks, and repairs made, if necessary. It is usually a good plan to replace the hose connections at this time of the year. Do not use anti-freeze compounds containing calcium chloride or other similar salts, as they corrode the inside of the radiator. The only satisfactory liquid is alcohol and water. During the winter, the fan belt can be loosened. This will reduce the flow of air through the radiator and will allow the motor to run warmer than it otherwise would.

Use Shellac to Stop Rattle of Windshield

A loose windshield, which causes annoying rattles, can be securely held in place by filling the space in the frame with shellac. This can be applied with a sharp pointed stick or brush and should be applied slowly so that it will pack tightly in the opening.

LICENSE REFORM URGED BY CLARK

Would Deny Driving Permits
To Physical or Mental Defectives

Organization in every state of a Department of Motor Vehicles, along the lines of that operating in California, is urged by Lyman F. Clark, president of The Glendale Motor Car Co., 124 West Colorado street, Maxwell, Chalmers and Chrysler dealers, who asserts that the most rigid examination should be made of the qualifications of every applicant for a driver's license.

"There are many people" says Mr. Clark, "who are physically and mentally unfit to drive cars, and an examination would reveal the defects that render them potential menaces to other people who use the roads. There are also many others who have criminal records, and these also should be refused licenses, as the automobile is used daily more and more in the operations of this class of people, and is a distinct aid to the lawbreaker. On the other hand, the automobile is also aiding the police to wage their fight against crime, and it is also helping fire departments and hospitals to carry out their duties more efficiently, and for this reason the men and the organizations that use motor cars in legitimate activities should be given every protection possible."

Uniform Signals
Another reform that Mr. Clark is anxious to see brought about is the standardization of signals, which, he claims, vary in different states to a degree that renders the autoist from one state liable to penalty for unintentional violation of motor laws in other states, especially in California where the congestion of the highways is so pronounced.

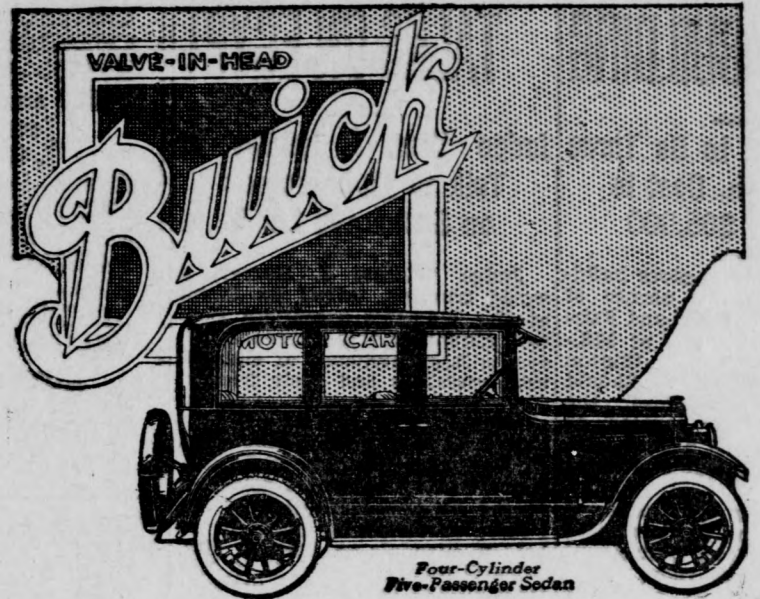

Automobile owners, as the men who have invested in transportation," Mr. Clark asserts, "are the men who are most interested in bringing about reforms that will make motoring safer and that will help them to get a bigger return on their investment."

Use of Horn Index to Experience of Driver

The automobile horn is equally important as brakes in the prevention of accidents. If the driver sounds his horn too loudly, he may disconcert a pedestrian or frighten him to the extent that he will change his course of direction, hesitate and otherwise endanger himself. There are occasions when it is better not to use the horn at all. For most purposes, a moderately long blast of the horn, sounded from a suitable distance, is to be preferred. A short blast from the horn displays either impatience or inexperience, to either of which pedestrians or other motorists will foolishly pay less attention. If the horn is sounded too loudly or too soon, the driver will be under the same suspicion. Moderation and judgment are the points to watch.

Temperature Changes Hurt Varnish on Car

When taking the car out of a warm garage in zero weather, open the doors a few minutes and let the cold air reach the car by degrees. Sudden temperature changes will cause a severe strain upon the varnished work.

The Deciding Factor— Buick Character

Ask some of your friends who own Buicks what they most admire in their cars. You will get a number of different answers. Yet in the end most Buick owners will agree that it is hard to place one Buick point of excellence above another—that what they value most in Buick is, after all, Buick character. If you already are not an owner, you can get an idea of Buick character by letting us give you a ride in the model you prefer. Suit your own convenience as to time.

BURBANK

PLAN APARTMENT,
STORE BUILDING

New Structure to Be Three Stories High, Cost Is Given as $65,000

Erection of a three-story building on the northeast corner of San Fernando boulevard and Fairmount avenue, at a cost of $65,000, is contemplated by Dr. Clinton Roath of Los Angeles. Should present plans materialize, the lower floor will be devoted to stores, a market and a pharmacy, with apartments on the two upper floors.

The foundation will cover a space of 60 feet on the boulevard and 110 feet along Fairmount avenue. The large room to be used as a market will, according to present plans, be 40 by 65 feet, leaving a width of 20 feet for the drug store. The space fronting on Fairmount will be for the lobby to the apartments and another business, which may include a beauty parlor or millinery.

The two upper floors will each have ten single apartments, every apartment containing a living room, kitchen with breakfast nook and a bath room.

San Fernando boulevard, from Palm avenue to Benmar Hills, may be widened to 100 feet to correspond with the section just beyond this, according to C. H. Snyder of the committee working with W. E. Smith on the probable cost of carrying out the proposed improvement. Others on the committee are Mrs. Lillian Ballagh, Maria Santino, P. J. Moran, H. B. Lind and A. S. Nicholson.

The boulevard at this point is at present 80 feet wide. The proposition now before the property owners is to add 20 feet to the boulevard, taking the added land from the northern side. The block from Magnolia to San Jose avenues is the only one upon which there are any buildings which will have to be moved. Included in the section concerned are the Edison and John Muir school premises.

C. of C. Charity Fund
The charity fund allotted in the Chamber of Commerce building drive is 2 per cent of the $8000 service fund, or $160. This sum will be turned over to the Women's club for distribution. Of the service fund, $4000 is for industrial advertising, to be accomplished largely through national and section trade journals. The total Chamber of Commerce budget for the year, now being collected, is $14,000.

Members of the Women's club wish to emphatically deny the allegation that this charity fund is in any way connected with their proposed clubhouse. The money is turned over to them because they are in touch with those whom it will benefit, they declare, and for no other reason.

LESS AIR FOR CORDS

Because the cord tire is more flexible and has greater air capacity the air pressure is about 10 per cent less than in the fabric tire.

QUART OF WATER
CLEANS KIDNEYS

Take a Little Salts If Your Back Hurts, or Bladder
Is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jod Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jod Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

Judge William J. Hervey, a world traveler, talked on Egypt at the Women's Twentieth Century clubhouse this afternoon, before a large audience of enthusiastic members and their friends. The musical program was in charge of Mrs. J. Hamer. It was announced that Mrs. C. W. Young and Mrs. T. J. Hansen have been appointed delegates to the district convention of the Federated Women's clubs, to be held in Glendale on April 8. Mrs. Alice Winters and Mrs. M. T. Lee were elected delegates, with Mrs. C. W. Hunt as the president's appointee. Attention is called to the club dance to be held at the Twentieth Century clubhouse Saturday night, March 29. Hostesses for the affair are Mesdames Donovan Harden, R. J. Tepper and P. W. Blumer.

Coming Events
Tonight at 8 o'clock, dainty misses in hoop skirts and pantallettes will hold forth in the vicinity of Occidental College, the occasion being the annual home concert of the women's glee club. This has been the club's most successful season for a number of years, and its members have been received with enthusiasm in many Southern cities. The club is in excellent voice, due to their splendid training by Maud Reeves Barnard. Lovers of good shows and good music will be well repaid for the evening spent on the Occidental campus.

There will be a meeting at the city hall on Colorado boulevard at 8 o'clock tomorrow night for all those who are interested in the cultivation of dahlias and their showing. This is now the time to start the early dahlias. "From the general outlook," says Mrs. C. W. Young, "this should be a banner dahlia year."

The Elson educational art exhibit, in progress at the Buchanan street school for the past two days, will close with a living tableau on Friday night, March 28, starting at 8 o'clock, supervised by Miss Gearhart.

15,963 Automobiles
Are Exempt in 1923

A total of 15,963 automobiles that were exempt, under the law, from payment of motor vehicle license fees, were registered in California during 1923, Will H. Marsh, chief of the Division of Motor Vehicles, announced today. The motor vehicle act exempts automobiles owned and operated by public service corporations and by federal, state, county and municipal governments from payment of fees, Marsh explained.

Of the total number of exempt automobiles, 6593 were owned by the public service corporations and 870 by the federal government. The remaining cars were owned by the state, counties and municipalities.

These cars, if added to the total number of passenger cars, trucks and motorcycles on which license fees were paid, would swell the grand total of registrations in California, for the year, to 1,130,940, it was stated.

RIGID TESTS AT

W. H. Daniel Explains Method Used Before Cars Are Sent to Clients

"Probably no piece of fine machinery receives such rough treatment as that accorded the automobile and probably from no other is as much expected as a matter of course by the owner," says W. H. Daniel, of the Dixie Packard Co., 510 East Broadway, Glendale Packard dealer.

"That the American fine car may continue functioning without complaint from its owner for many thousands of miles and over a period of years there has been built up a system of rigid tests and inspections more exacting than is employed in any other industry."

"In the plant of the Packard Motor Car company every motor upon its final assembly is operated nine hours by an electric motor to get all its working parts functioning smoothly. Then it goes into a "quiet" room from which all outside noises are eliminated and here it drives a dynamometer which registers its efficiency and power. While it is operated in this "silent" room an expert goes over every part of it with a stethoscope to catch any sounds not audible to the unaided human ear which might indicate faulty operation of any of the parts.

"While the motor is undergoing its test other units in many other

Number of State Wards;

WHITTIER, March 27.—Discussing the 300 per cent increase in wards at the Whittier State Schools for Boys in three years, Fred C. Nelles, superintendent of the institution, today said:

"This increase is directly attributable to the attitude of the modern father. No longer does the average father make himself the elder pal of his son.

"The father of today makes more money and plays golf, but he does not devote time to the upbringing of his sons as did the fathers in preceding generations. "Mothers and woman school teachers are doing their share of the training of the sons, but the influence of the father is badly needed.

Many More Temptations
"Temptations have multiplied with the general use of the automobile and the development of motion pictures, but defenses against abnormal use of these pleasures have not been considered.

"The influence of the father cannot be ignored and the only preventive against continued increase in state wards is the recognition by the father that he must be an elder brother to his lad."

Governor Richardson has authorized the use of moneys from the emergency fund to restore three divisions at the Whittier school, which were eliminated by Mrs. Nellie Brewer Pierce, former member of the State Board of Control.

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad

By GEORGE T. HOOK
For International News Service

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—It's strange what a worm can do when it turns. One turned on a fish platter in a fashionable cafe here recently and started a $10,000 lawsuit that was tried before a judge and jury, with mingled levity and gravity. In the end it served another bad turn to Alfred H. Talpey, Harvard graduate and employee of a big insurance company, for he lost his suit to the cafe company.

Talpey encountered the wriggly villain of the story while lunching at the cafe. The villain was described in court as "sinach colored and about an inch and a half long."

Talpey at the time was not in the best of health and, at the advice of his doctor, was on a sort of "string bean diet," according to the story related in court by his attorney. He ordered string beans along with the fish platter, and, in addition, the fish was garnished with mashed potatoes and spinach. The plate was appetizing, the plaintiff admitted, and he had eaten most of the fish, the beans and the spinach, when, lo and behold, he discovered the worm squirming on the plate!

"The sight was sickening," Talpey testified. "It turned my stomach and gave me acute nausea."

"You didn't eat any part of the worm?" counsel for the defense inquired.

"Oh, no, no, no! but its presence upset my stomach," Talpey replied, with a grimace that seemed to indicate the villain still pursued him.

The case resolved itself into a question of negligence or complete innocence on the part of the cafe.

"Where is the negligence of the defendant in this case?" asked Judge Gordon. "Was the worm present on that plate through any carelessness of this company, and where did it come from?"

Counsel for the plaintiff declared the very fact that the worm was on the plate suggested negligence.

"It became evident that the 'worm was cooked,' as far as Talpey's suit was concerned, when, in charging the jury, the judge explained the requirements of the law of negligence before there can be any recovery allowed for such a 'shock and sick spell' as described by the plaintiff," and, furthermore, "a Harvard graduate would have no more right than a Pennsylvania graduate to recover damages unless the defendant was properly chargeable with negligence under the laws of this state."

The jurors retired, and presently hilarious laughter emanated from their room. The worm, it seemed, was substituting for "Pat and Mike," the "Lizzie Ford family" and kindred principals of the parlor joke. The judge forthwith ordered their return to the courtroom and cautioned them against "shouting or quarreling in reaching a conclusion in this remarkable case."

"It's just about a worm," he said, "and nothing to get excited over. Now consider the case more calmly."

In a few minutes a verdict favoring the defendant company was returned. The worm had turned again.

Those who listened to the case and heard the verdict were inclined to believe there ought to be a revision of the old saying that "the best place for a fisherman to get bait in the winter-time is in 10 cents' worth of chestnuts."

Poems That Live

A DIVINE RAPTURE
E'en like two little bank dividing brooks,
That wash the pebbles with their wanton streams,
And having ranged and searched a thousand nooks,
Meet both at length in silver-breasted Thames,
Where in a greater current they conjoin.

So I my best-beloved's am; so He is mine.
E'en as we met; and after long pursuit,
E'en so we joined; we both became one;
No need for either to renew a suit.

For I was flax, and He was flame of fire;
Our firm-joined souls did more than twine;
So I my best-beloved's am; so He is mine.
If all those glittering monarchs that command
The servile quarters of this earthly ball
Should tender in exchange their shares of land
I would not change my fortunes for them all;

Their wealth is but a counter to my coin;
The world's but theirs; but my Beloved's mine.
—Francis Quarles.

MARY MORISON
O Mary, at thy window be,
It is the wish'd, the trusted hour!
Those smiles and glances let me see,
That make the miser's treasure poor;
How blissfully would I bide the stour!

A weary slave frame sun to sun,
Could I the rich reward secure,
The lovely Mary Morison!

Yestreen, when to the trembling string
The dance gaed thro' the lighted ha',
To thee my fancy took its wing,
I sat, but neither heard nor saw;

Thou' this was fair and that was braw,
And yon the toast of a' the town,
I sigh'd, and said among them a',
"Ye arena Mary Morison."

O Mary, canst thou wreck his peace,
Wha' for thy sake wad gladly die?
Or canst thou break that heart of his,
Whase only faut is loving thee?

In a few minutes a verdict favoring the defendant company was returned. The worm had turned again.

Those who listened to the case and heard the verdict were inclined to believe there ought to be a revision of the old saying that "the best place for a fisherman to get bait in the winter-time is in 10 cents' worth of chestnuts."

While possessing many of the drug-store variety with "marsh-mallow whips," Philadelphia has to rely upon knowing strangers for information about real, honest-to-goodness, two-fisted, two-gunned, know-how-to-carry-their-drinks cowboys. Miss Marian Schaffstoll, of Ranger, Texas, obliged with some first-hand stuff the other day, when she dissipated the dreams of girls in eastern cities that cow-punchers are really the big, handsome, lovin' brutes the movies picture them.

"When you get down to it, there isn't much about a cowboy that would turn any girl's head," Miss Schaffstoll said. "They're like big, overgrown farmer boys. They can ride their horses sure enough; but there isn't one in a dozen who owns a toothbrush."

"I had one of these fold-up kind once, and one of the boys saw it, and he asked me if the rest of the family didn't get sore about me keepin' it all to myself."

"And they do the dumbest things outside their work with the cows. If they feel ill they'll take any fool thing for medicine. They figure that if one pill a day will make them well in a week, a few pills ought to fix them up in a few days."

No effort was made to inform Miss Schaffstoll that perhaps, after all, there is a great similarity between the real cowboy and him whose sturdy steed is a soda-fountain stool.

Talpey at the time was not in the best of health and, at the advice of his doctor, was on a sort of "string bean diet," according to the story related in court by his attorney. He ordered string beans along with the fish platter, and, in addition, the fish was garnished with mashed potatoes and spinach. The plate was appetizing, the plaintiff admitted, and he had eaten most of the fish, the beans and the spinach, when, lo and behold, he discovered the worm squirming on the plate!

"The sight was sickening," Talpey testified. "It turned my stomach and gave me acute nausea."

"You didn't eat any part of the worm?" counsel for the defense inquired.

"Oh, no, no, no! but its presence upset my stomach," Talpey replied, with a grimace that seemed to indicate the villain still pursued him.

The case resolved itself into a question of negligence or complete innocence on the part of the cafe.

HERE'S 'LITTLE ORPHANT ANNIE' Long Sought By Poet Riley in Days Past

MRS. MARY ALICE GRAY

Like the original of the famous poem by James Whitcomb Riley, died recently at the age of 73 years, at her home in Indianapolis. Before he died the poet Riley made extensive though unsuccessful efforts to locate the inspiration of his boyhood. He never saw her again after the year she spent at his parents' home, when he was a lad.

By FRANK I. WELER
For International News Service.

"Little Orphant Annie" came to our house to stay. An' wash the cups an' saucers up, an' brush the crumbs away. An' shoo the chickens off the porch, an' dust the hearth an' sweep. An' make the fires an' bake the bread, an' earn her board an' keep."

Like "Old Aunt Mary," James Whitcomb Riley's "Little Orphant Annie," immortalized in one of the Hoosier poet's best known poems, has fallen asleep "whispering—all is well" and gone to join "Jim" out yonder.

In life "Little Orphant Annie" was Mrs. Mary Alice Gray, widow of a farmer. She died here suddenly, death coming quietly and peacefully, at the home of the only survivor of her four daughters, Mrs. L. D. Marsh, at the age of 73 years.

And, as Riley said of him from whose parting he wished to take the last vestige of sorrow, so might he have said of her: "With a creasy smile and a wave of the hand, she wandered into an unknown land."

And left us wondering how very fair, It needs must be since she lingers there."

Born of poor parents, Mrs. Gray, as the orphaned Mary Alice Smith was but ten years old when, in 1860, she went to the Riley home, near Grenfield, Ind., to "earn her board an' keep." She did odd chores about the house and took care of the boy whose vibrant pen in later years sent the thrill of other personality singing into the heart of every youngster in the land.

The little orphan was a tiny, elfish girl, who had command of a rich imagination. In spare hours she grouped the Riley children, with loving care, about the great family fireplace and told them fanciful stories of ghosts and goblins "that'll get you, ef you don't watch out." She so impressed little "Jim" that he gave her undying fame in one of his most widely-loved poems, originally known as "Little Orphant Annie," after the nickname by which she was known.

Riley wrote of the picturesque girl in prose as well as in poetry. In "Where Is Mary Alice Smith?" he depicts the orphan falling in love with a soldier boy of the Civil War and dying of a broken heart when he was killed. The poet never again saw Mary Alice after the year she worked for his parents; but before he died he made every effort to locate her, and his advertisements were read by a relative of Mrs. Gray only a few hours before death closed the eyes that longed to behold for the last time a friend of the long ago.

It was many years after the poem was written that Mrs. Gray became aware that she was "Little Orphant Annie." She had lost all connection with the poet's family and, although she had lived in the Grenfield neighborhood all her life, had never revisited the old homestead. At the time of her death her most treasured collection of remembrances was a large number of Riley books containing many clippings and stories of the poet and everything he had written, together with Marcus Dickey's "Life of Riley." These probably will go to her namesake and youngest great-grand daughter, Little Mary Alice Jessup, of Indianapolis.

Remembered "Jim." Despite her advanced age, Mrs. Gray came here in 1922 to take an active part in the ceremony marking the laying of the cornerstone of the Riley Memorial Hospital for children. She retained the keenest collection of "Jim" and said in an interview: "Jim wrote verses everywhere; he wrote them on the walls and on the fences, drawing pictures to illustrate his scribbles. He was a bright boy, was Jim."

There was always a sweet gentleness in the quaint philosophy of Mrs. Gray. She met all her difficulties with quiet demeanor, and when troubles came she smiled and said, with him whose youthful thought she guided, "When the good Lord chooses to send rain, why, rain's my choice."

In New York this story is told to illustrate the great care taken to keep from the grandchildren of John D. Rockefeller all knowledge of the fact that they are heirs to the greatest fortune in the world.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has an estate at Seal Harbor, Maine. The principal pastime of one of his sons there last summer was playing along the shore in an old and dilapidated row boat. One of his playmates, a local boy, said to him one day, "Say, if I were you, I'd have a fine motor boat."

"Gee whiz, who do you think we are—Vanderbilts?" replied the grandson of the richest man in the world.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S SHOES

"Well, what's new?" asked the Wolf of the Fox, as the Fox slunk up to his den one day.

"Nothing new," barked the Fox. "It's the same old story. I never can seem to catch Uncle Wiggily! And I love him so!"

"You mean you love his ears—the same as I do!" growled the Wolf.

"Yes, that's it! Oh, how I love his ears!" sighed the Fox. "I love them so much I—well, I could eat them ALL UP!"

"Um! So could I," agreed the Wolf. "But, as you say, we don't seem to get the chance. But say, did you hear about the silly old Bob Cat?"

"No. What about him?" asked the Fox.

"Why, he got inside Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow yesterday," went on the Wolf. "The rabbit was home waiting for a saxophone, or something like that, and he and Baby Banty were eating bread and sugar. When the Bob Cat got in he ate so much bread and sugar he didn't have any appetite for nibbling ears. And he didn't touch Uncle Wiggily at all! Can you imagine?"

"Just fancy!" cried the Fox. "But say, Wolfie, old dear, I have a new idea. It just came to me. I think I know how you and I can catch that rabbit and just love his ears all to pieces!"

"How?" asked the Wolf.

"I'll slip up to his bungalow," went on the Fox, "and when he and Nurse Jane are out I'll creep in and take a pair of Uncle Wiggily's shoes."

"Shoes! You'll take his shoes?" cried the Wolf. "What good will that do? I can't eat old shoes!"

"No more can I," the Fox chuckled. "But after I take Uncle Wiggily's shoes I'll leave a note like this: 'If you want your shoes back come to the den of the Wolf and get them.' Uncle Wiggily will come to your den. You and I will be waiting there with the shoes, Wolfie, old chappie, and, well, you can guess the rest!"

"Indeed, I can," laughed the other bad chap. "It seems a good trick. Go ahead—do it!"

So the Fox crept out of the den of the Wolf in the dark and dismal woods and went to the hollow stump bungalow of Uncle Wiggily. As it happened the rabbit gentleman and his muskrat lady housekeeper were out. The Fox slipped in and took a pair of the rabbit's shoes. In their place he left a note which said: "Dear Uncle Wiggily, Your shoes are in the den of the Wolf. Please come there and get them. Yours truly, Dooley-ooley."

"Who is Dooley-ooley?" asked the Wolf, when the Fox came running in with Uncle Wiggily's shoes, and told about the note.

"Oh, that's just a name I signed for fun," the Fox answered. "It doesn't mean anything. Just make believe."

So the two bad chaps hid back in the dark corner of the dismal den, waiting for the rabbit gentleman to come after his shoes. Then, of course, they hoped to nibble his ears.

Pretty soon, after a while, Uncle Wiggily reached home. There was snow and slush on the ground and his paws were wet. "I'll put on a pair of dry shoes," thought Mr. Longears.

But when he looked for his dry shoes they were gone, and in their place was the note from the sly Fox.

"Oh, ho! So my shoes are in the Wolf's den, are they?" exclaimed the bunny gentleman. "Well, I must get them back. I need those shoes! I guess they'll let me have them all right. It's only a joke they're trying to play on me!"

Uncle Wiggily went to the telephone and waited for a moment.

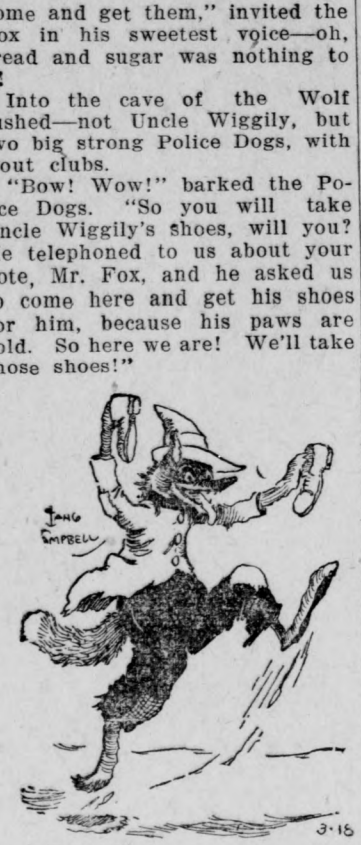

In the dark and dismal den waited the Fox and Wolf. In the middle of the floor stood Uncle Wiggily's shoes.

"When do you think he'll come for them?" whispered the Fox. They waited a little longer. Suddenly they heard a noise outside at the front door of the cave.

"Hist! Here's Uncle Wiggily coming now!" whispered the Fox.

A voice called out, asking: "Have you Uncle Wiggily's shoes in there?"

"Yes, my dear Uncle Wiggily!"

The Fox came running

So one Police Dog took the Bunny's shoes and the other Police Dog tickled the Fox and Wolf in their ribs with his club. And he made them laugh so hard they got the hiccoughs and couldn't bite even a piece of cheese.

"Ha! Ha!" barked the Police Dogs as they hurried to Uncle Wiggily with his shoes. "We fooled you, Mr. Fox and Mr. Wolf!"

So this teaches us if you ever need to go to a Wolf's den, take a Police Dog with you or let the dog go in your place.

Glendale is particularly fortunate in having an up-to-date undertaking concern such as the Pulliam company, who own their auto ambulance. There are very few towns the size of Glendale, where a firm will stand the loss of operating a fully equipped ambulance.

Scarcely a day passes but some one riding either a motorcycle or bicycle gets a hard fall at the Pacific Electric crossing on Broadway, Second, Third, Fifth or Sixth streets. In the past three months these elevated tracks have caused the sufficient extra expense in the way of extra wear and tear on automobiles and motorcycles to pay the entire expenses of lowering the tracks.

W. F. Wood of 500 East Third street has on display in the window of The News office some extraordinarily large oranges. The largest measures sixteen inches in circumference.

Way down East, in New Hampshire, they tell the story of the curious Yankee. Riding to town, he encountered a one-armed horseman, and rode with him. The Yankee began a cross fire of prying questions. Finally the one-armed stranger lost his patience.

"My friend," he said, "I'll answer one more question and no more."

"All right," replied the Yankee, "how did you lose your arm?"

"It was bit off," replied the stranger.

They rode for a mile in silence before the Yankee remarked: "I'd give two dollars to know what bit it off."

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. S.:—Mayonaise dressing made with mineral oil is very delicious and will not count up calories appreciably because only a small proportion of the one egg yolk—which will make at least one cup of the dressing—will be taken in a serving of it. Here is a good recipe for it:

Mineral Oil Mayonaise
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon mustard
1/2 teaspoon sugar
Few specks of cayenne
1 egg yolk
2 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice.

3/4 cup mineral oil
Mix the dry ingredients in a bowl. Add the egg yolk and mix well. Add a little of the lemon juice, then a tablespoon of the oil drop by drop, beating constantly. When the mixture begins to thicken add the oil a teaspoonful at a time, alternating with the rest of the lemon juice.

This is good also for constipation.

Mrs. R.:—Your varicose veins will undoubtedly be benefited after you have reduced your weight. We have had hundreds of letters testifying to that fact. You may have to wear an elastic stocking. These can be purchased at the surgical supply houses.

Mrs. M.:—Yes, gaining in weight will put a little covering of fat over the large veins in the forearms so they will not be so prominent. The size of the veins is another one of those things that may be inherited.

Mrs. G.:—If you have not succeeded in getting rid of your warts by simple home remedies you should go to a skin specialist.

Once more I have journeyed through city fancywork shops with the idea of reporting on some of the latest handwork ideas for my readers' sakes. Here are a few of the attractive novelty articles I saw:

The Hairpin Boxes: These were made in the French style; covered with either old-rose or old-blue silk brocade and decorated with gold braid, gold lace and clusters of tiny, colored-silk flowers. Apparently boxes of all most any shape had been chosen, so long as they were suitable for holding hairpins. These were covered on the outside with silk brocade, then decorated with gold braid along the seams and corners. Gold lace covered the top of the lid, and small silk flowers gave a dainty finish to the center. All of these hairpin boxes were hand-made, and the maker had used her originality so that no two of them were alike. When I opened one of them I discovered that it was lined with old-blue silk grosgrain ribbon. This blue fancywork article is not only extremely useful, but also very effective on the top of bureau or dressing table.

Silk-Flower Boudoir Pins: Wherever I found boudoir garments in the shops—kimonos, bed-slippers, boudoir caps, etc.—I also found small pins as follows: Take a small nickel safety pin (the ordinary kind, measuring one inch long) and wind it with pale pink sewing silk till no nickel shows (or you may use twisted embroidery silk for this winding). The next step is to make tiny pink silk flowers with yellow (embroidered) centers and place these closely together on the top wire of the safety pin, securing them there with stitches. Add a few leaf-green ribbon-tips, for leaves, and the work is done. Of course the wound pin-part must be completely covered by the flower decorations. These boudoir pins are used to fasten the kimono together, or to catch up a ribbon on one's boudoir cap—in fact, used in any way that is useful when one is in negligee.

Silver Bags for the Suitcase: Every woman who has silver toilet articles will want a set of the new flowered-crotonne bags with gray flannel linings and ribbon drawings, into which she can slip her toilet articles before putting them into her traveling bag or suitcase. In this way, the silver is protected from scratches.

These bags are washable, but, owing to the dark gray lining, they do not soil rapidly. (Crotonne with dark colors may be chosen for this same reason.) Make them with square corners, just the size of the various toilet articles—one to fit each article.

MASHERS FACE DANGEROUS DAYS

Gotham Policewomen to Carry Long Pins

Mrs. Mary E. Hamilton, New York's new policewoman chief.

"Scratch 'em; scratch 'em hard. Always wear a long pin in your coat lapel. At the first sign of mashing, use it." This is the first order given New York's 100 policewomen by their new chief, Mrs. Mary E. Hamilton. She will also have them trained in jiu jitsu so they can tackle all mashers, large or small.

Miss Sophia Delevan Cowles.

The better part of law enforcement is done through public conscience. That is because real laws, which have a moral basis, are the expression of the moral feeling of the community. This moral feeling results from many spiritual and educational forces which are vitalized by belief in a declared law.

"The same force of public opinion can be built up among the nations. It cannot be built up until the moral law that was illegal is expressed in terms of law. The law must be expressed so that the spiritual strength of the world, always much greater than we admit, may rally to its backing. War must be outlawed in order that this spiritual force may be released and vitalized."

Alice Ames Winter, president General Federation of Women's Clubs.

"The biggest danger, I believe, that faces the old world in this new age is that of this huge mechanism, this ever more and more intricate and more marvelous machine of modern civilization.

"We get to think of life in terms of that mechanical success and lose sight of the great energies and pulses of emotion that turn the world.

"We think of men not as men, but only as bankers and shoemakers; when we use the same word, typewriter, for a machine or a girl; when a carpet sweeper may be a brush with a long handle or a woman with two legs and an immortal soul, tragedy stalks among us. It is had enough when we think of others in these terms and still worse when we think of ourselves as functions and not as people.

"The remedy is to realize our eternal individualism. No one in the world has finger prints like mine. No one else in the world has just my delicate balance of faculties. No one else, belongs just in my niche.
"The God who made me meant me."

Three Welsh women, Mrs. Peter Hughes-Griffiths, Miss Mary Ellis and Miss Elinor Pryor, came to this country recently as a delegation from the women of Wales to the women of America bringing a peace memorial. On February 19, at a luncheon in New York where several hundred American women representing 60 organizations and sixteen million members were present, the memorial was given.

Mrs. Hughes-Griffiths made the speech of presentation telling of the way in which Welsh women of all classes united to ask our cooperation in winning world peace. A script copy of the Memorial was presented and then a great oak chest containing 890,296 signatures was opened and the keys and padlocks turned over. Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, chairman, accepted the Memorial.

The Welsh delegation later went to Washington where they were entertained and presented to President Coolidge.

Beauty Chats

PLASTIC SURGERY

So far, plastic surgery has been made use of by actresses whose reputations and fortunes depend upon their youth and beauty, and by a very few society women with enough money to indulge in vanity. Plastic surgeons say that they can restore the contours of youth by doing away with such signs of age as wrinkles, sagging cheeks, crow's feet and bagginess around the eyes. They also claim they can change the shape of the nose by removing part of the bone or by inserting a piece of bone. Birthmarks, scars and such things are also treated by them as well as by dermatologists.

The simplest and most successful and most frequently performed operation is called face-lifting. The patient is put under ether and an incision made from the ear along the line of the head to the temple. A triangular bit of skin is removed, the edges pulled together and stitches taken. In a few days the stitches are taken out and in a fortnight the whole thing is healed and the cut scarcely shows. In any case the hair is pulled around it. Some surgeons, I believe, shave the hair back a little and cut behind the line of the hair, which eventually grows over and conceals the faint scar.

As the loose skin has been drawn up most of the wrinkles are gone and all the sagging flesh and the face does indeed look younger. At the same time it is curiously expressionless, for the skin has been drawn rather tight so that the natural expression does not come back until many years afterwards when the skin has stretched again. And by that time wrinkles will be returning, though not as bad as they were before.

Plastic surgery is very expensive. Many surgeons still consider this a waste of time and when they do perform such an operation charge extra large fees for it. It is the sort of work that must be done by the best available person.

Tubby: I am sorry but I cannot give you the name of a people in business. The price for permanent waving varies in different localities.

F. H. S.: I do not think you would find it becoming if you bleached your hair; but a tint added to brown hair which is neither light nor dark, as yours, would be an improvement. You can acquire this with henna, which will in no way injure the hair.

A girl of 18 years, height five feet three inches, should weigh about 115 pounds.

M. F.: Use cold water to stop the excessive perspiration on your face when at a dance, and do this also every time after you bathe. Use an astringent on the skin, such as a few drops of benzoin, in a basin of water, before you go to places where you become overheated.

M. A. M.: There is no way to explain why women so often have superfluous hair. Extracting the coarse hairs does not increase the growth. The electric needle kills the roots of most of the hairs, but some hairs need a second treatment, on an average of from one to ten hairs.

Heart and Home

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

DILEMMA

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 15 years of age and have a girl friend who is a year older. Ever since I came to town we have been great friends and have gone everywhere together. We are both going to school. She is a freshman and I am in high school.

There are some boys who come from a different town and go to school. They go home every night and come every morning. At the beginning of the school year my girl friend went with one of the boys. She always told me all the fun she had during the day. I never cared because I was glad she had good times.

I did not speak to any of the boys because I didn't know any of them. Later I got to know who they were and so I spoke to the boy she went with. He hardly spoke to me at first but one night after school when I spoke he began talking to me. Ever since he has treated me fine and always speaks when I see him.

One night my girl friend and I went to a basketball game and her boy friend took me home. He told me that his girl friend didn't speak to him any more. He also said something to me about her. I kept it to myself for a long time. But at last I couldn't stand it any longer and I told her. One time he asked her why she was angry and she said she had heard what he said about her. Now she doesn't speak to him.

I told him that I didn't tell her what he had told me. It was the only thing I had repeated. I will never repeat again. Should I tell the boy what I told her? He always asks me why she is angry at him. I think this is the only way I can settle it. She asks me things and he asks me. I know both because they both tell me of their troubles.

They were no longer very great friends even before this happened. Ever since the boy has been chummy with me she has been rather cool. I would like to keep her friendship. What should I do?

BROWN-EYED SWEETIE.
It was decidedly "catty" to tell your girl friend what the boy had said about her. You hurt her feelings needlessly and betrayed her confidence. Then to lie yourself out of your difficulty was another mistake. The only thing you can do to square yourself in your own estimation is to tell the boy that you did pass on what he said. Say that your conscience has troubled you ever since and you want him to know the truth if you sacrifice your friendship with him. Probably it is too late to right matters with your girl friend. Be as nice to her as you know how and she may forgive you.

LEATRICE: Boys are often slow about making suggestions. Of course it would be pleasant if your friend asked for your picture and suggested correspondence. If he has proved beyond a doubt that he likes you very much I think it would be all right for you to make the suggestions. But, if his friendship has been more or less indifferent, I would not advise you to ask for the picture or suggest correspondence.

JULIA AND ETTA: It is not proper to go riding with boys after a party at night. Ask them to take you directly home. Do not let them kiss you when they leave. I am sure if they are the right kind of boys they will respect you more if you do not permit familiarities.

JEALOUSY: I am a girl in my teens. I have been going with a boy, 18, for seven months. He says he loves me and is very jealous of me. He doesn't want me to speak to any other boy. He always comes in town to see me on Saturdays and Sundays. Do you think he really loves me?

Yes, I think the boy loves you. Jealousy is a most unfortunate passion. Very often it pleases a girl to know that her sweetheart is jealous and wants her for himself, but if the courtship results in marriage, the wife is made miserable by her husband's jealousy. I would advise you to insist on the right to speak to other boys, even if you think it better not to go with them.

CURLS: Apply for a position in some children's home. There may be something for you to do even if you aren't a trained nurse.

A certain group of older men in a small town in Virginia meet quite often and usually have something to drink, states Judge. The oldest one was observed to always hold his nose while drinking. One night he was asked why he did it and if he disliked the smell.

His reply was: "If I smell the stuff it makes my mouth water and I don't want my drinks diluted with anything."

THREE FIGHTS AT JERSEY POSSIBLE

Report Tex Rickard Getting Fistic Activities for Coming Summer Lined Up

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, March 27.—Three fights of magnitude sufficient to attract the financial attention of the innocents without undue blare or ballyhoo, planned by Tex Rickard for his Jersey arena, are impending during the coming outdoor season.

The first of these will occur on or about Memorial day and will feature Pancho Villa and Frank Genaro, respective world's and American flyweight champions; the second will be Benny Leonard and Mickey Walker collaborate in a catchweight enterprise, contiguous to July 4, with Walker's welterweight title at stake; the third, it is hoped, will bring together Jack Dempsey and either Firpo the furious or Tom Gibbons, in September.

This is the sum total of the writer's present information on affairs of the fist. Rickard probably will promote the program when the moment is propitious. All three bouts are what is technically known as "naturals." That means they will intrigue the customers without artificial aid, something after the manner of the Dempsey-Carpentier and Dempsey-Firpo affairs.

The fact that friend Luis is named as an alternate with Gibbons is illuminating. It indicates that Rickard, for one, is inclined to place some credence in Firpo's plans to retire. The Latin, of a certainty, will be Dempsey's next opponent if they can persuade him to enter the ring with Jack again, which is doubtful. If not, Dempsey and Gibbons will be tossed into the arena in a return bout for the benefit of the local milk fund.

The Leonard-Walker attraction has been cooking over a slow flame ever since Benny made a mess out of Lew Tendler last summer. Leonard, a great congener of local gates, now has no logical rival among the lightweights and must look beyond that division for action. Walker, in the flight immediately above and really representative champion, is the sole choice. They can whisper the announcement of the date and the merry villagers will riot at the gates. Villa and Genaro will please the good citizens, but on a minor scale, largely because flyweights are not so highly esteemed. They have met three times and Genaro has yet to fail to finish in front. Yet, Villa is the accredited champion of the world. Hence the natural.

Tiger Freshmen Ball Team Plays Fullerton

The Oxy frosh baseball outfit, headed by Captain Hasserot, will tangle with Fullerton High school Friday afternoon on the Fullerton diamond. The Tigers have won five games already and are counted upon to go through the season undefeated. Bud Teachout and Rats Brobst will form the battery for the Tigers.

Coach Wilkie Clark is building his frosh team for the future and is aiming at next year, when the present frosh team will compose the varsity.

Five frosh are reported to have been offered major league contracts and turned them down until they finish their education. They are Mishkin, Hasserot, Brobst, Teachout and Godet. Plans are under way to arrange games with Stanford and California, as well as U. S. C. and the conference teams for next season. In 1912 and 1914, when Coach Clark was mentor of the Oxy baseball nine, the Tigers defeated both the Cardinals and the Golden Bears.

TROJANS PREPARE TO BATTLE CARDS

Track Teams of 2 Schools Will Fight for Honors at L. A. Saturday

Home from their ill-fated trip to Berkeley, where they lost a close meet to the University of California, Dean Cromwell's University of Southern California tracksters this week are going through a hard training grind in preparation for the biggest local dual meet of the 1924 season—the clash with Stanford, which is to be held Saturday afternoon, March 29, in the Los Angeles coliseum. The Cards are coming to Los Angeles with a reputation of being the strongest dual team in the West, if not in the country, and while Cromwell does not look for a victory he is grooming his men to win as many places as possible.

That U. S. C. should have beaten California Saturday is agreed by virtually all critics, for had Bud Houser, U. S. C.'s great weight heaver, been in condition the ten points which he certainly would have scored would have turned the 89-5-12 to 82-7-12 score into a Trojan triumph. Houser, his tonsils swollen so badly that his physician advised an immediate operation, and confined in bed with a high fever all last week, got up out of bed and went to Berkeley knowing that he could hardly hope to win a first place.

He put the shot over 45 feet for third place and hurled the discus 133 feet. The week previous, when in health, he put the shot 47 feet 5 inches and the discus 146 feet. Had he been able to have repeated those performances Saturday his ten points would have been the meet.

Will Be in Contest
Houser is still fighting tonsillitis and will be in no condition to give Glenn Hartnuff a close battle Saturday. Hartnuff puts the shot 49 feet 9 inches and the discus 144 feet, and even were he in condition Houser would have his hands full. As it is, Houser expects a third in the shot behind Hartnuff of Stanford and Norman Anderson of U. S. C., and a second in the discus.

The other U. S. C. men are in good condition, although Aden Hughes is having some trouble with the leg that was spiked in the California meet. A fellow runner, in trying to keep ahead of Hughes and in the mud slipped in the mud and cost U. S. C. another point. While the Houser-Hartnuff duels will be the big attraction Saturday, there will be high-class competition in other events and if fair weather prevails a large crowd should be on hand. Stanford is coming down en masse and Cardinal alumni are organizing a rooting section. Critics expect the Cards to come mighty close to winning the national championship this year, while others think that the Trojans stand as good a chance. Local track followers, therefore, expect to see some of the best exhibitions of track and field prowess of the season.

Stanford Strong
Stanford is particularly strong in the half mile, mile and two mile, but Mike Elwood did so well against the Bears that many expect him to come in ahead of some of the Cards who have beaten his time. Four Stanford men have run the 880 in better than 1:58 this year, so it is seen that Percy Niersbach of the Trojans will have to step fast to keep up with the parade. The hurdle races look like two of the best events of the day. Leighton Dye and Ronald Stever of U. S. C. will meet "Swede" Leistner and Harold Boles of Stanford in the high sticks, with Dye being favored to win. In the lows, Kenneth Grumbles, Dye and Otto Anderson of U. S. C. are due to take on Leistner and Boles and in this race the hope points to Grumbles as the probable winner. The competition in these races will be keen.

Marshall Hale and "Scotch" Campbell are Stanford's stars in the sprints and figure to beat Yale Martz. Both Storie and Miller of Stanford are running the 440 under 50 seconds and will give Aden Hughes something to think about. Schofield and Dennis, Stanford pole vaulters, have both cleared 12 feet 6 inches and appear to have the edge on Howard White. Two Stanford high jumpers, Anderson and Kemnitzer, have better records than Ross of U. S. C. The Cards are said to be weak in the javelin and so are the Trojans.

It will be seen that in virtually every event the Trojans will be fighting an uphill battle. Figuring purely on records made this year by the respective athletes, Stanford would score around 90 points to 41 for U. S. C. But the Trojans are hoping to spill this dope sheet all over the coliseum.

Grizzly Golfers Seek Contest With Tigers

The Grizzly golfers from the Southern Branch are hunting for matches with the conference colleges and are trying to arrange a tournament with the pick from Occidental. Oxy golfers have not organized a team, but the players continue to practice with much success. Hamilton, Cosgrove, Spangler, Hess and Pursel are among the best.

Oregon Aggies Claim Champion Coast Wrestlers

CORVALLIS, Ore., Mar. 27.—The Oregon Aggies claim the wrestling championship of the Pacific coast. They base their claim on the refusal of the University of California to meet them on the mat.

California defeated Stanford and University of Southern California and O. A. C. matmen easily won from Washington, W. S. G. and Oregon. Robin Reed, 125 and 135-pound national amateur champion of 1921 and 1922, is the mainstay of the Aggie team. He flopped other Northwest college wrestlers who outweighed him from 15 to 30 pounds.

Exchange Pin Team Beats Kiwanis Five

The Exchange club bowlers defeated the Kiwanis five in last night's match at the Recreation Center alleys, taking two out of three games. Melding of the winners was high man with 572 for the three games, and his teammate, Neise, led with 220 for the highest score in any one game.

Return Match for Oxy Frosh and Fullerton
The Oxy freshmen tennis team will meet the Fullerton High school racketeers in a return match Thursday afternoon on the Tiger courts. The frosh won 4 to 3 from Fullerton high in the first tournament.

Harold Dickinson, Oxy frosh first man, is playing super tennis lately and has won every match he has played in against prep and college teams. Strayer, second player on the squad, is a chicken-some partner in the doubles events. Neely and Blackstone are also doing good work.

Grafious Is Out for Season, Ankle Broken

Lester Grafious, Occidental college varsity pole vaulter, who received a fractured ankle while competing for Oxy in the Pomona track meet last Saturday, is now able to hobble around on crutches. Grafious will not be able to represent the Tigers in track again this season, but will be on hand next year. With Roy Goodenough graduating, the pole vault event will find Grafious, Donely and George Fontaine, freshmen, bidding for the honors next year.

Oxy Swimmers Asked To Meet U. S. C. Stars

Coach Turley, Occidental swimming instructor, is in receipt of a letter from U. S. C., asking for a dual swimming contest between the Tigers and Trojans some time in the near future. Elms, Parmenter and Jacobson, the only three varsity lettermen back this season, will soon be limbering up in the pool. The conference swimming meet is scheduled for the first week in May. Plenty of new material is on hand to fill the vacancies in the different events.

Cleveland Team Wins World Bowling Title

CHICAGO, March 27.—Herb's Indians of Cleveland are the bowling champions of the world, five-man division, until the next annual assault of the sharpshooters of the American Bowling congress. Their mark of 3044 stood up under the attack of 2130 teams and held good when the five-man event closed last night. Singles and doubles will wind up today. The five-man championship came with it $1000 in cash and five diamond medals. The San Jose Baum Candy quintet, which carried California's banner into the American Bowling congress and took a temporary place among the first ten, ended in eighteenth place and collected $265 in prize money.

Glendale K. C. Team Will Meet Alhambra

Gallagher and Ceronni will form the battery for the Glendale K. C. baseball team next Sunday, when the local Casey's meet the Alhambra aggregation at the White Sox park. The game will start at 12:30 o'clock, so the field will be cleared in time for the headline contest scheduled for 2 o'clock. The Casey's game last Sunday was postponed on account of rain.

MOVIE STAR BUYS FAST RACING CAR

Lew Cody Will Have Entry In Coming Events at Ascot Speedway

LOS ANGELES, March 27.—Declaring he is out to advance the breed of racing automobiles, Lew Cody, motion picture star and sportsman, referee of the last Beverly Speedway race, announced this morning the purchase of a 183 cubic inch Miller eight-in-a-row racing car which will be entered in Ascot Speedway meets with one of the most famous drivers now participating at Ascot as his driver. Mr. Cody asked that the name of the pilot be withheld for a few days until after the termination of a contract he has with another racing car owner terminates. The actor-sportsman has been a keen follower of the gasoline sport for many years, being one of the old Ascot regulars.

Announcement was made this morning by George Bente that in the Dorothy Vernon Sweepstakes in which Lottie Pickford and Marilyn Miller will present for Mary Pickford a valuable sterling silver trophy, there will be a number of changes of faces and cars from the original entries scheduled.

Freddy Frame, daring Los Angeles youngster, pilot of the swift-running "99" car, has found aid in the millionaire sportsman, "Jimmy" Roach, who has purchased a 183 Miller for Frame's mount in the future. The spectacular work of the intrepid youth attracted the attention of Roach some weeks ago. The rubber band was removed from the sportsman's bank roll this morning, and "Babe" Stapp will henceforth drive the "99" into the treacherous Ascot turns.

Few More Changes
The "Babe's" car, Sherman's number five, will have as gasoline jockey, Gus Schrader, whose amazing handling of number 45 wien that erratic car did a triple spin on opening day at Bente's academy of thrills, challenged the admiration of even the danger-calculated rail-birds. Bente said this morning that the statistician of Ascot cannot spend further time in figuring out the "move-up" of the other cars and drivers, except to assure the regulars that "Dad" Evans, the 64 years old "Pop Geers" of the sport will not be allowed to desert his Glendale Special in the mad race for gold.

Interest in the motor-bike events was increased when John O'Connor, the Judge Landis of the two-wheel motor sport on the coast imparted the information that two machines built by an eastern factory for the annual Isle of Man race in England were sent here for Ralph Hepburn and Ray Weishaar to try out next Sunday. Two machines used for three weeks at Ascot by that pair of riders were sent to Italy by the factory building, and will be used in the spring classic of the motor-bikers over the original Targa Florida course.

TUJUNGA INCREASE FUNDS FOR CLUB HOUSE

Dance and Entertainment Add Close to $100 to Money on Hand

The building fund of the Tujunga Women's club was enriched nearly $100 as a result of the dance and entertainment given Tuesday night at the Masonic hall, according to a report from the auditor of the club. The exact sum is not yet known, as the outstanding tickets have not all been checked in. A large crowd was present to enjoy the dancing and refreshments.

Men friends of the club are planning a hard times party for the benefit of the building fund, to be given at the Garden of the Moon, on Michigan avenue, Tuesday night, April 8. The Garden management has offered the use of the hall free of charge, and the music will also be furnished. By accepting this offer the men believe they are displaying their superior business judgment, as the Masonic hall cost the entertainment committee $10, the orchestra the same amount, and the refreshments brought the sum near the $30 mark. The men propose to eliminate all but the refreshment expense, thus realizing a larger sum and making a correspondingly bigger hit with the club ladies, which is probably the most important part of the program after all.

Hartnuff to Help
Ground was not broken for the clubhouse this week as was expected. M. V. Hartnuff of the California Home Extension company has offered to do this work for the club, and will place his teams at their disposal as soon as available. The plans for the building are not completed, the architect having been delayed in drawing them. It is expected that the work will be ready soon and presented to the club members for approval. Several pieces of furniture and other furnishings have been presented to the club and others are promised. The members are very enthusiastic over their plans and expect to have a well-equipped home in a short time.

Incorporation was discussed by the executive board at the last meeting, but no official resolutions were adopted, although a motion was made by one of the members that the club endorse the move. This was strenuously opposed by other members, and no official action was taken. This is in line with the action of other clubs and civic organizations, which have voted to leave the incorporation question to the voters without advice or influence that might later be misconstrued.

More Petitions
One of the numerous petitions to be considered next Monday by the board of supervisors asks that one of the districts included in the original petition for incorporation, but later eliminated at the request of residents, who signed a petition, be re-established as part of the territory which is proposed to unite as a city of the sixth class. Another petition, it is understood, asks for the elimination of a strip south of Michigan avenue that would include part of the business district. There have been six separate petitions circulated and prepared for presentation, each one conflicting in some way with the others, with the result that the county supervisors are probably tired of them.

Select Pastor, Hear Reports at Meeting

By unanimous vote of the members of the Tropico Presbyterian church at the annual meeting, Wednesday night, March 26, Dr. James F. Winnard, pastor of the church, was elected for the coming year. Reports of the year's work showed very gratifying growth and progress in all lines of the church activities.

Dr. Winnard reported the present membership is 145, with five more to be added Sunday. The missionary society was represented by Mrs. J. M. Hale, who spoke of the work accomplished, and by Mrs. S. E. Brown, treasurer, who gave the financial report.

John Server, secretary of the Sunday school, reported for that organization, and Ruth Goldsborough, treasurer of the Christian Endeavor society, representative of that body. The aid society was represented by Mrs. J. M. Server, president.

The following trustees were elected to serve for the ensuing year: Sam Brown, S. E. Brown, L. D. Hyer, H. L. Moody and James A. Byerly. The elders elected were L. J. Andrews, J. B. Burnham, Glenn Porter, Dr. H. St. Clair, Allen Adams, J. A. Hebert and H. B. Goldsborough.

wondering what it is all about. Next Monday they will endeavor to learn what the Tujunga dis-county supervisors are probably tired of them.

Dr. Barker's Lectures Will Be Given Friday

The series of three lectures by Dr. Charles E. Barker, former health adviser to William Howard Taft, announced in The Evening News as being given yesterday at the High school, will be given Friday morning, afternoon and night. The lectures will be given at the auditorium of the Broadway High school and will be under the auspices of the Glendale Rotary club.

At 11 o'clock Friday morning Dr. Barker will speak to the students on the subject, "How to Make the Most Out of Life." At 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon he will deliver a lecture for women only, "A Mother's Relation to Her Daughter," and the third lecture, at 8 o'clock, will be for men only, and is entitled "A Father's Responsibility to His Son."

Dr. Barker will appear in Glendale through the efforts of George B. Karr, president of the Rotary club, and Principal George U. Moyle of the High school, who is a Rotarian. The lectures Dr. Barker is giving throughout the country are sponsored by International Rotary.

There will be no charge to the lectures here tomorrow and as many men and women as can attend are urged by Mr. Karr to be present.

Of Petrified Tree

Mrs. C. H. Bird interested Mutual Benefit Reading Circle members yesterday by exhibiting some specimens from the recently discovered petrified forest on the Mojave desert. Mrs. Bird stated that there are 1000 acres in the forest, which was discovered by placer miners about two miles from the highway.

Mrs. H. V. Henry, chairman, directed the meeting, during which Mrs. Bird told of the work at the Raja Yoga academy at Point Loma.

It was announced that at the meeting next Wednesday Richardson D. White will speak.
Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Hen-

School Trustee Candidate
Gives His Views on Vital Questions

Editor The Evening News:—
Having served one term as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Glendale Union High school,
I have felt that my future action might fairly be judged by my past record.

Since I am a candidate for re-election, it is urged that I make a statement of my position on the questions now under discussion, viz: Consolidation, Junior High schools, and disposition of the Harvard Street High school.

First, I must frankly state that neither of these is a simple problem that can be cleared away by a simple resolution of a Board of Trustees. The present Board of Trustees has given months of careful study and investigation to these problems during which time many valuable facts and figures have been obtained bearing upon them. The board is well agreed as to the existing facts and conditions but no one has yet offered an easy solution.

Misleading Publicity
Certain publicity which has been given to these questions may have misled a few people into thinking that the problems are just as simple as sawing off the branch of a tree which hangs across your path and interferes with your progress as you walk, but I assure you that such is not the case. My attitude on these questions has been conservative, moving slowly and avoiding serious mistakes. I have no apologies to offer.

The three questions at issue are so inter-related that we have found it impossible to consider one of them without running afoul of the other. The school laws under which we operate are unwieldy and unworkable so far as these problems are concerned.
The public should understand that high school districts and elementary school districts are separate entities and must remain so under any form of coalition or co-ordination that is proposed.

For Fair Methods
There are some advantages in so-called consolidation, and I am in favor of it, if brought about by the consent of the entire Glendale Union High school district. The advantages are not sufficient to justify a member of the board in openly ignoring a portion of the district or advocating its elimination by unfair methods. It may as well be understood that so long as I am a member it will be my purpose to represent impartially the entire district and in doing so my loyalty to Glendale will not be questioned by any fair minded person.

Junior High schools are very desirable and their introduction here hinges largely upon our ability to arrange a financial program for which the people are willing to vote.

The idea of selling the Harvard street school to the city for a civic center has always interested me and I favor this at such time as we are able to relinquish it for school purposes and the people will vote the bonds to buy it.

The reader may get a slight inkling from the foregoing how very much the solution of each of these three questions depends upon the other.

COMPLETE PLANS
FOR DEDICATION
OF NEW STATION

Glendale Officials, Railroad
Heads to Participate
In Ceremonies

Formal presentation of the Spanish-renaissance type station recently completed on Cerritos avenue by the Southern Pacific company, will be made at dedication ceremonies tonight by T.
H. Williams, assistant manager of the Southern Pacific. It will be accepted on behalf of the city of Glendale and surrounding communities by Mayor Spencer
Robinson and by Chamber of Commerce heads from Hollywood,
Pasadena and Burbank.

Mr. Williams will arrive in Glendale late this afternoon.
President W. E. Hewitt of the Chamber of Commerce will preside at the dedication.

The station, constructed in Glendale because of its strategic location near Los Angeles, Burbank, Hollywood and Pasadena, is different in type from any other station on the Southern Pacific system and is considered one of the most beautiful on the entire line, according to Arthur Reh-wold, district passenger agent.

Concert by Band
With a concert by the Glendale Community band, the program is scheduled to begin at 7:30 o'clock.
It will be followed by community singing of "America," in charge of the Community Service organization led by H. S. Robinson, and the introduction of honor guests by George B. Karr.

Mr. Williams will make the presentation address to be followed by a speech of acceptance
by Mayor Robinson. F. S. Mc-Ginnis, assistant passenger traffic manager, representing William
Sproule, will then talk briefly.

Officials to Speak
President T. B. Allen of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce and William Duncan, secretary, will point out that the new station will be of great advantage to that city. President G. G. Greenwood of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, and Carl Bush, secretary, will talk on Hollywood's relation to the new station. A brief address of appreciation will be made by Mayor J.
C. Crawford of Burbank.

Arrangements for the dedication are in the hands of E. F.
Sanders, secretary of the Glendale
Chamber of Commerce, and Mr.
Rehwold.
